TWENTY-THREE NEGRO TROOPERS ARE SURRENDERED BY MEXICANS TO UNITED STATES AUTHORITIES

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS WASHINGTON, D. C.

Brought to Border on Special Train and Turned Over to General Bell, at El Paso.

MORMON SCOUT ALSO FREED

NEGROES BLAME MEXICANS

Thousands Gather at Juarez and El Paso to See the Men.

El Paso, June 29. — The twenty-three negro troopers of the Tenth cavalry, who at Carrizal, Villa Ahumada, Chihuahua City and Juarez have been central figures in the Mexican situation, are safely out of Mexico. Survivors of an engagement with a superior force, victims twice of mobs that stoned them, more than once in fear of execution, and, lastly, objects of intercession by the President of the United States, they were brought to the border from Chihuahua City on a special train today and turned over to General Geo. Bell, Jr., commander of the El Paso base.

Two Different Stories.

With them came Lem H. Spillsbury, the Mormon scout, who guided Captain Charles T. Boyd and his detachment to Carrizal. Spillsbury spent the night at the home of his brother here. The troopers were quartered at Fort Bliss, awaiting orders from General Funston at San Antonio. Two stories, differing widely, were told by the men. Spillsbury upholds statements he was credited with making at Chihuahua City, charging Captain Boyd with obstinacy in advancing in the face of a certain Mexican attack. The other, narrated by men of the Tenth, blame the Mexicans for the ensuing fight.

Private William D. Gibson asserted that after the Americans had quit the field, the Mexicans went over it and killed several wounded. Gibson's assertion was corroborated by Privates Archie Jones and Luther Alexander. Others of the troopers claimed they had been robbed of money and valuables following their capture.

It was thought probable at military headquarters the 23 troopers will be kept at the Fort Bliss hospital until all danger of infection from disease will have been removed, and then transferred to their various commands. The horses, arms and accouterments of the troops are expected to arrive here from Chihuahua City tomorrow. They were left behind yesterday, so that the release of the men could be expedited.

Thousands Witness Event.

The arrival of Spillsbury and the negro troopers at the border today caused thousands to gather in Juarez and El Paso to witness the event. In Juarez a big crowd saw the prisoners arrive at the Mexican Central railroad station, but gave little evidence of enmity. As they marched from the station to the disinfecting plant, from that point to the commancia and finally to the International bridge, there were occasional jeers.

The crowd showed good humor when the troopers descended from the train. Stripped of their uniforms after the battle of Carrizal and with restoration only partly made, the negro soldiers were arrayed in motley garb and their appearance provoked laughter.

When the formalities of the transfer had been ended the Americans marched off the International bridge to El Paso, they were greeted by cheers from the thousands gathered on this side of the Rio Grande. The authorities made every effort to discourage a demonstratortion on the part of the onlookers, many of whom had waited from sunrise until 3 o'clock in the afternoon to witness the returning troopers.

Capt. Morey Arrives.

An incident of the day was the arrival here of Captain Morey for treatment at the Fort Bliss Hospital for the wound he received at Carrizal. Tonight he arranged to visit the soldiers at Fort Bliss. Fifteen of them, members of Troop K, are under his command.

Scheduled to arrive in Juarez early this morning the special train ordered by General Trevino at Chihuahua City to carry the 24 prisoners to the border, in response to President Wilson's peremptory demand, did not reach Juarez until noon. Departure was made in the night, the prisoners being taken to the train secretly so as to avoid arousing the people. It was almost 9 o'clock when the train pulled out. It consisted of an engine, tank car, day coach and a caboose.

Prisoners Oddly Dressed.

The prisoners were slow in leaving the cars. After the Carranza soldiers had formed an avenue along the outer edge of the platform, General Gonzales entered the coach. He returned shortly with the officer of the guard and joined Consul Garcia and Mayor Prieto, of Juarez, on the platform. As the negro soldiers appeared, derisiv

WASHINGTON AWAITS FULL COMPLIANCE WITH DEMANDS UPON MEXICAN GOVERNMENT

Release of American Prisoners Has Averted Probability of Immediate Retaliatory Steps, But the Vital Point at Issue is the Attitude Carranza Takes Towards Pershing's Troops—Preparations for Possible War Continue.

Washington, June 29.—The Washington government still awaited tonight full compliance with its demands by the de facto authorities of Mexico. Release today by General Carranza's order of the American prisoners taken at Carrizal has averted the probability of immediate retaliatory steps. It is possible that it has also helped to pave the way toward an attempt at peaceful settlement of the whole border situation.

High officials made it very clear, however, that the vital point at issue —the future attitude of Mexican forces toward American troops in Northern Mexico, engaged in guarding the border and pursuing bandits who raided American territory—remains to be settled.

No Advices Regarding Reply.

The State Department had no advices tonight as to when a diplomatic reply to its demands might be expected. The Carranza government has adopted the unusual course of complying in fact with an urgent demand from a foreign government before it even acknowledged receipt of note or made any statement of what it proposed to do.

Pending a satisfactory answer to its second and more far reaching requirements the United States will continue to have troops sent to the border and take every step and necessary preparation to carry out its purposes by force of arms.

Carranza to Back Up Orders.

Intimations have come, it is understood, that Carranza intends to back up orders issued to General Trevino directing that American troops be attacked if they moved in any direction in Mexico except toward the border. Officials are fully prepared for a reply of that character, despite the fact that the prisoners at Carrizal have been promptly surrendered on demand. They expect, however, that the reaffirmation of position will be made in a note free from hostile language and continuing the discussions of the advisability of the withdrawal of the American troops from Mexico.

Apparently Secretary Lansing is determined to get a clear statement of intentions on which action by the United States can be founded.

Carranza officials profess an earnest desire to avoid a clash, however, and a further struggle to fix diplomatically responsibility for hostilities that may come is foreshadowed.

Mediation Not Acceptable.

Mr. Lansing made it clear today to Ignacio Calderon, minister from Bolivia, that pending a formal reply from the Carranza government to his last note, no offer of mediation would be acceptable to the United States.

The attitude of the government on this question as officially outlined is that arbitration is wholly out of the question; that the United States has nothing to arbitrae. If General Carranza should withdraw his hostile orders, however, and then propose that an attempt be made to formulate through mediators an agreement of some sort for joint operations in protecting the border, it might receive consideration. No plan would be acceptable to the United States, however, that in any way hampered its own efforts to guard the lives and property of its citizens.

Right to Pursue Raiders.

The right to pursue raiders into Mexico will be maintained and exercised without interruption and if the border can be properly protected only by temporary military occupation of Mexican territory adjacent to the line, that will be the course pursued.

It is understood that the Washington government would not under any circumstances consent to a military status quo during a discussion of possible co-operative measures.

Officials indicated they had little hope that an agreement for co-operation could be arranged. The United States already has declared officially its belief that General Carranza is unable to guarantee adequate protection on the Mexican side of the line. It has also informed him it has reason to believe that the bandits have been encouraged and aided by his forces in certain instances.

Tension Temporarily Relaxed.

The temporary relaxation of tension here was indicated today by President Wilson's trip to Philadelphia to deliver an address. Mr. Wilson returned tonight and one of the first matters to receive his attention will be the National Guard draft resolution adopted by Congress today.

Under the authority conferred by the resolution, the President may apply the draft to Guardsmen by permission at his discretion. When he will take that step has not been decided.

The War Department had little definite information today as to the progress o fthe Guardsmen toward the border, although messages announcing the

SEASIDE ASSEMBLY RE-ELECTS DR. HURT

Wilmington Pastor is Again Chosen President; Other Officers Elected.

DR. WHARTON DELIGHTS

Largest Crowd Yet Hears Baltimore Lecturer, Who Will be Heard Twice Today—Plans for Bigger Things in 1917.

Last night's session of the Baptist Seaside Assembly at Wrightsville Beach was featured by a humorous and mirth-provoking address by Dr. H. M. Wharton, of Baltimore, and the election of officers for the ensuing year. Dr. John Jeter Hurt, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Wilmington, was nominated and re-elected to the presidency of the Assembly.

Dr. Wharton's lecture, or perhaps it would be better to call it an entertainment, was heard by decidedly the largest audience of delegates and visitors from Wilmington that have attended any of the sessions so far. Last night was known as "Wilmington Night," at the Assembly, and those in charge of the arrangements were much pleased with the fine crowd of visitors from the city who turned out to hear the distinguished lecturer.

The report of the nominating committee was submitted to the Assembly by Hon. John A. Oates, of Fayetteville, and its recommendations were adopted as follows: Dr. John Jeter Hurt, of Wilmington, president; Mr. E. L. Middleton, of Raleigh, secretary, and Dr. T. W. O'Kelly, of Raleigh; Prof. J. A. Campbell, of Buie's Creek, and Rev. W. H. Reddish, of Wadesboro, vice presidents.

The following were named to serve on the advisory committee: Rev. Lee McB. White, of Monroe; Editor T. J. Lassiter, Smithfield; Messrs. D. J. Hunt, Cliffside; R. D. Caldwell, Lumberton; Rev. J. Clyde Turner, Greensboro; Dr. John A. Stevens, Clinton; Rev. H. W. Baucom, Morehead City; Dr. Fred D. Hale, Lexington; Messrs. J. A. Bowers, Kinston; E. Clyde Johnson, Durham; Mr. Clifford, Gastonia; Messrs. D. L. Herring, Kerr, and T. S. Franklin, Charlotte.

The following members of the executive committee were named to serve on the committee for the ensuing year: Hon. John A. Oates, Fayetteville; Messrs. H. B. Parker, Jr., Goldsboro, and L. R. Varser, Lumberton; Rev. W. G. Hall, Wilmington; Mr. Carey J. Hunter, Raleigh; Dr. Livingston Johnson, Rocky Mount, and Rev. J. A. Sullivan, Wilmington.

Today's Programme.

Today's programme will be featured by two chautauqua lectures by Dr. Wharton, and judging from the way folks enjoyed his splendid address last night there will be a great crowd of visitors in addition to the delegates to the Assembly at both the morning and evening sessions. In the morning at 11:50 o'clock, Dr. Wharton will speak on "Our Life Work," and in the evening will deliver an address on the subject of "A Horseback Ride Through Palestine." Both lectures will be preceded by an attractive musical programme.

The session this morning will be opened by a lecture by Dr. W. J. Glothlin at 9 o'clock on "Paul, the Pris-

WILSON DESCRIBES HIMSELF AS BEING IN FIGHTING MOOD

Declares America Must Vindicate Its Principles of Liberty, Justice and Humanity.

REGARDLESS OF THE COST

President Addresses Large Crowd in Philadelphia—Greeted With Great Applause.

Philadelphia, June 29.—President Wilson, describing himself as "in a fighting mood," enunciated today to a large crowd in Independence Square his conception of some of the cardinal American ideals. He declared that America, in dealing with other nations, must "vindicate at whatever cost," its principles of liberty, justice and humanity: that "America First" must be translated into action exalting it above all selfish interests and that the nation's policy and development must be guided by the whole people and not by any small group.

Applause repeatedly interrupted the address. The crowd liked particularly the President's declaration that American principles must be vindicated in dealing with other nations, which apparently was interpreted as referring to the Mexican situation, at notime, however, did Mr. Wilson mention Mexico or any other foreign nation directly.

People Should Shape Policies.

In urging that the whole people should shape the national policies the President said that some men pretended to believe in the average man, but when they acted they showed they did not.

"Oh, you Teddy," some one shouted, and the President hastened to explain that he was not referring to any certain individual.

"'America first' means nothing until you translate it into what you do," was a statement that brought prolonged applause. Cheers also greeted the President's declaration that while he was not interested in fighting for himself, he was "immensely interested in fighting for the things that I believe in, and so far as they are concerned I am a challenger to all comers."

Officially the President addressed delegates of the convention of the Associated Advertising Club of the World, but a mixed crowd heard him. He spoke in the open air, under the shadow of Independence Hall. He left for Washington immediately after the address.

The President's Address.

President Wilson in his address said: "I understand, gentlemen, that you have brought yourselves together in order to promote candor and truth in the advertisement of your business. I wish very much, gentlemen, that candor and truth might always be the standard of politics as well as the standard of business * * *. I do not see how a man can fail, having established the horizon of his business where the great hills of truth lie, to lift his eyes to the great multitude of laboring men and striving women who constitute a great nation like ours, and in the very act of addressing them get in his own consciousness some part of the impulse of their life. You cannot commend your business to people that you do not understand and you cannot understand the people of the United States without wishing to serve them.

Should Understand Ideals.

"So I come to you with this thought: America is at a point, gentlemen, where it is more than ever necessary that she should understand her own ideals, not only, but be ready to put them into action at any cost. It is one thnig to entertain fine principles and another thing to make them work. It is one thing to entertain them in the formulas of words like the splendid words which were uttered and gave distinction to this ancient and historic building behind me, but it is another thing to do what the same men did, make these words live in the action of their lives. And America is summoned in each new generation to renew not only the pledges that those men made, but to renew the example which they gave to the world.

"I am not interested, and I beg that you will believe me when I say that I never have been interested, in fighting for myself, but I am immensely interested in fighting for the things that I believe in, and so far as they are concerned I am a challenger to all comers. It is important, therefore, since I am in fighting mood, to let you know what

RUSSIANS FORCE THE AUSTRIANS TO RETIRE FROM KOLOMEA SOUTH

Muscovites Have Seemingly Gained Free Access to Passes in the Carpathians.

AND TO LEMBERG RAILWAY

Austrian Casualties Heavy in the Fighting in Kolomea Region, and Also Near Kuty.

10,506 ARE MADE PRISONER

Italians Continue Offensive in the Trentino Region.

In a Russian attack over a front of 25 miles, extending eastward from Kolomea, in Galicia, the Austrians have been compelled to retire on a part of the front in the region of Kolomea on southward.

The Austrians valiantly attempted to hold back the oncoming Russians, but, according to Vienna, were compelled to give way before superior forces.

In this fighting and also in battle near Kuty, in Bukowina, the Austrians suffered heavy casualties. In addition, 221 officers and 10,285 men were taken prisoner, and heavy guns, machine guns and stores were lost. The Russian success in this region seemingly gives them almost free access to the Carpathian passes, and to the railway running northwest from Kolomea to Lemberg, the capital of Galicia.

Violent Battles in Russia.

On the central part of the Russian front, in Volhynia, the violent battles around Linawka and in the region of Sokul continue unabated. Further north the Germans have followed heavy bombardments of various positions with infantry attacks, which Petrograd says were all repulsed.

The Germans have again made an effort to win French positions of Hill 304, northwest of Verdun, after a bombardment extending from the hill to the Avocourt woods. The curtain of fire of the French and the fire of their infantry put down the attack, however. Intense bombardments continue northeast of Verdun, around Fleury and the Vaux, Chapitre and Chenois wooda.

Damage by British Guns.

The British along their part of the front in France and Belgium are keeping up their heavy bombardment of German trenches and sending out raiding parties who are reported to be doing effective work, inflicting more or less serious casualties on the Germans and bringing back prisoners. The guns of the British have done much damage to German trenches at many points, according to London.

In the Austro-Italian theatre the Italians in the Trentino region are still driving back the Austrians and recapturing important positions taken from them in the recent Austrian offensive. The Italians also have opened a big offensive against the Austrians on the eastern front, around Monte San Michele, San Martino and Vermegliano. Here, however, according to Vienna, the Italians are being partly repulsed by Austrian counter attacks.

HON. A. L. BROOKS ELECTED PRESIDENT

State Bar Association Re-Elects Secretary Thos. W. Davis, of Wilmington.

SUCCESSFUL CONVENTION

Workmen's Compensation Act, Approved by Special Committee, Recommended to Next General Assembly—Memorials.

The election of officers for the ensuing year, the adoption of the recommendation of the special committee for a Workmen's Compensation Act for the State, reading of memorials to deceased members, and an able address by Judge W. M. Bond, of Edenton, constituted the chief features of the last day's meetings of the annual convention of the North Carolina Bar Association, which adjourned yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock after having been in session at the Seashore Hotel at Wrightsville Beach since Tuesday morning.

Hon. A. L. Brooks, of Greensboro, was elected by acclamation as president of the association to succeed Col. Harry Skinner, of Greenville, who served with conspicuous success as the head of the organization for the past term. Thos. W. Davis, Esq., of Wilmington, who has served as the very able and efficient secretary of the association for the last several years, was unanimously re-elected to succeed himself.

The other officers of the association elected upon the recommendation of the nominating committee are three vice presidents, as follows: Solicitor Homer L. Lyon, of Whiteville; Haywood Parker, of Asheville, and E. L. Gaither, of Rocksville. R. H. Sykes, of Durham, and Herbert F. Seawell, of Carthage, were elected to fill vacancies on the executive committee.

In announcing at the morning session the names of delegates from the North Carolina Bar Association to the annual convention of the American Bar Association, President Harry Skinner was given an ovation when he included the name of Miss Julia Alexander, of Charlotte, as one of the number. Miss Alexander is engaged in active practice and is a member of the Bar Association and takes a great interest in its proceedings. Other delegates named by President Skinner were S. G. Bragaw, of Washington, and Mark W. Brown, of Asheville, with the following alternates: C. W. Tillett, Jr., of Charlotte; Lindsey C. Warren, of Washington, and Irvin B. Tucker, of Whiteville.

Hon. John D. Bellamy, of Wilmington; G. S. Bradshaw, of Greensboro, and T. L. Caudle, of Wadesboro, were named as delegates to attend the Conference of American Lawyers to be held in Chicago in August.

Members Are Grateful.

The election of officers was the concluding business of the association. Prior to taking up this matter, Judge Biggs moved a vote of thanks to the distinguished speakers, Hon. Thos. W. Shelton, of Norfolk, and Hon. Walter George Smith, of Philadelphia, not only for their splendid addresses but also for their fellowship in attending the meetings. This was adopted by a rising vote. Mr. Smith, who was present, expressed his great appreciation of having had the honor of attending the meetings.

Hon. Clement Manly, of Winston-Salem, moved a vote of thanks to the bar of Wilmington for the enjoyable oyster roast and other acts of hospitality and also to the proprietors and the management of the Seashore Hotel for the very courteous treatment of the visitors during their stay at the hostelry, which was adopted by a rising vote.

R. H. Sykes, of Durham, moved a vote of thanks to The Morning Star and The Evening Dispatch for the splendid reports of the meetings which were published and this was adopted unanimously.

Upon motion of Judge W. P. Bynum, the new president is authorized to appoint a special committee of five members on uniform legislation.

J. W. Pless, of Marion, suggested that the executive committee be authorized to have the annual meetings of the associations either in or out of the State, as they saw fit, but as it appeared the committee already has this authority, the motion was lost.

The time having arrived for the election of officers, Judge J. S. Manning, of Raleigh, moved the election of Hon. A. L. Brooks, of Greensboro, as president, stating that he was a prominent and conspicuous lawyer, who had for many years attended all the meetings of the association and had always manifested a very deep interest in its deliberations. This was seconded by L. R. Varser, of Lumberton, who moved a suspension of the rules and his election by a rising vote, which was done.

Judge Manning and Hon. Clement Manly were appointed a committee to escort Mr. Brooks to the platform. In accepting the election the new president declared that he could conceive of no greater honor than to be elected to such an office and that in administering its duties said he expected to make justice on all occasions his prime and impelling motive.

"We have tried him in the past and have found him to be thoroughly capable and I, therefore, desire to place in

CAROLINA WINS IN FREIGHT RATE WAR

New Tariffs From Middle West Gateways Held Lawful and Reasonable.

THE VIRGINIA CITIES LOSE

Decision Handed Down by Interstate Commerce Commission, Giving Tar Heel Jobbers and Others a "Square Deal."

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., June 29.—The freight rate war between Virginia and North Carolina cities, arising out of the sentiment of the sensational clash between the railroads and the Carolina State officials several years ago, was decided today in favor of North Carolina when the Interstate Commerce Commission handed down a decision, holding as lawful and reasonable the new freight tariffs from Middle West gateways to the Tar Heel State.

The effect of the decision is to give North Carolina jobbers and wholesale merchants an equal chance with jobbers of Richmond, Norfolk, Lynchburg, Roanoke, Petersburg and Suffolk, the Virginia cities, in the trade territory of North Carolina, when it comes to freight rates. Under the old tariffs, the class rates on flour and kindred commodities from Louisville and Cincinnati, the Middle West gateways, to North Carolina cities was a combination of the rate from the Middle West gateways to the Virginia cities plus the local rate from the Virginia cities to North Carolina. In other words, the first class rate from Louisville and Cincinnati to North Carolina cities was 93 cents, made up of the 32-cent rate to the Virginia cities and 61-cent local rate from Virginia to North Carolina.

ROGER CASEMENT SENTENCED TO DIE

Prisoner in Speech Before the Court, Brings Tears to Eyes of Some of His Auditors.

HAS A WORD FOR AMERICA

Declares He Was Not Tried by His Peers, That He Did Not Come to England, But Was Dragged There by the Crown.

London, June 29.—Viscount Reading, lord chief justice of England, with the black cloth, by tradition called a Cap, spread over his head and his two associates in scarlet gowns likewise black capped, pronounced the sentence of death for high treason on the Irishman, Sir Roger Casement, shortly before 5 o'clock this afternoon, half an hour after the foreman of the jury, in a shaking voice, gave the verdict of guilty.

Sir Roger addressed the court, reading his final statement with the explanation that he wished it might reach a much larger audience than the one before him, and particularly the people of America from whom had come many messages of sympathy to him and whose own struggle for liberty, he said, always had been an inspiration to Irishmen.

Sir Roger's auditors, among whom were Viscount Bryce, and many other prominent men and women, listened in deepest silence, some moved to tears.

Not Tried by His Peers.

The prisoner declared he did not regard trial by Englishmen in an English court as a trial by his peers to which he was entitled. He reviewed recent events in Ireland, particularly on the

SMALL PILOTAGE BILL RECEIVES BODY BLOW

House Committee Refuses to Make Favorable Report.

There Now Seem Little Chance for the Bill to Become Law for a Long Time if Ever—Capt. Adkins Heard.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., June 29.—The House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries today dealt a body blow to the Small pilotage bill, when it refused to make a favorable report on the measure and by an overwhelming vote postponed further action indefinitely. The measure is of great interest to Eastern North Carolina.

The bill if passed would exempt barges in coastwise trade from being compelled to use pilots. Mr. Small contends that many shippers oppose the present system because it imposes an unjust and unreasonable burden upon owners of small craft who would like to do business with merchants along the coast but under present conditions are prevented from doing so because of the high toll asked by the pilots.

Capt. J. J. Adkins, of Southport, a prominent member of the Pilots' Association, and other leading members of the pilots' organization appeared before the committee and opposed the bill. Captain Adkins pointed out that the pilots of Southport and other places had spent years in learning their profession and that the pilots' business would be killed if the Small bill should become a law. He said also, that each pilots' organization had valuable equipment which would be worthless if the bill was passed.

In view of today's action by the committee, there seems little chance for the bill to become a law for a long time to come, if ever. P. R. A.

DECLARES MODERN DENTISTS HAVE ELIMINATED PAIN.

So Dental Society is Told at Asheville by Eminent Speaker.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., June 29.—Featured by an address on "Nerve Blocking", by Dr. Arthur E. Smith, of the Chicago College of Medicine and Surgery, the second business session of the annual convention of the North Carolina Dentists' Association was held here today. Throughout the day various clinics were held, among them one, "Crown and Bridge Work," by Dr. A. E. Stone, of Philadelphia, and Dr. H. T. Stewart and Dr. J. F. Ruhl, both of New York.

Dr. Smith in his address this morning, made a statement that will meet with popular approval when he declared that "the time is coming when dentists who inflict pain on their patients will be looked upon in the same manner as the men who do improper bridge work today." He declared that modern dentists have eliminated pain from dentistry.

This afternoon the members of the association were guests of the Asheville dentists at a buffet luncheon served at the Asheville Club. Officers will be elected tomorrow.

A. C. L. FREIGHT WRECKED.

Passenger Train on New Bern Line Delayed at Jacksonville.

Jacksonville, N. C., June 29. — The passenger train from New Bern to Wilmington was delayed here about two hours this morning, on account of the wrecking of freight train No. 320, from Wilmington to New Bern, between here and Verona. Five rails of the track were torn up by the wreck. No one was injured.

DEFENSE BEGINS ITS CASE IN ORPET TRIAL

Endeavoring to Show That Miss Lambert Poisoned Herself.

Student in High School and Chemistry Instructor Testify it Was Possible for Her to Have Obtained Cyanide.

Waukegan, Ill., June 29. — A three-day cross-examination of Will H. Orpet, University of Wisconsin student, charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, having been finished this afternoon, the defense began its effort to show that the Lake Forest high school girl committed suicide by taking potassium cyanide. Two witnesses were heard before adjournment.

John B. Vergoe, a special student at the high school, attended by Marion, and E. J. Tragoe, the instructor of chemistry, testified that the cyanide was avaiable in liquid form in the laboratory, and in crystal form in the stock room adjoining. Their testimony showed that Marion entered the laboratory on the morning of Tuesday, February 8, the day before her death, and appeared to be at work. She was not supposed to be there at the time, but nothing in her actions aroused suspicion.

Each student was provided with a mortar and pestle, the witness said, and the day after the finding of the girl's body in the woods her's was examined, but revealed no traces of cyanide. The instructor testified that Marion's next chemistry lesson was to be on cyanide, and at this point the chapter in her book relating to the drug as one of the most deadly of poisons was read to the jury. The book was one of the two found near the body of the school girl.

TWENTY-THREE NEGRO TROOPERS SURRENDERED BY MEXICO TO THE U. S.

whistling rose from the crowd. The faces of most of the troopers looked drawn and they presented an odd appearance. Their uniforms had been taken from them at Villa Ahumada. They wore motley collection of hats, bought from prisoners in the Chihuahua prison, towels or colored bandanas. Shirts were missing in many instances. Two of the men wore blankets in lieu of trousers. One had a towel around his wait. Sandals and shoes not of army pattern were on their feet.

One of them managed to smile and say: "We are sure glad to get back."

Interpreter Spillsbury, the only white man, had on a white yachting cap and white trousers many sizes too large.

From the station the prisoners were marched down the main street to the disinfecting plant where they were fumigated. Then they were taken around a corner to the commandacia or headquarters, where the negroes were put in a large room under guard and fed by order of General Gonzales. Spillsbury was taken into another room, where he gave his story in an interview to an Associated Press representative. The negroes refused to talk, saying they must first report to their superior officers.

Spillsbury was asked who, in his opinion, was responsible for the Carrizal fight.

Spillsbury Sticks to Statement.

"I am hardly prepared to answer that question," he said. "If Captain Boyd had orders to go through Carrizal to Villa Ahumada, he demonstrated that he was a very brave man and that he would make every effort to carry out his orders. If he did not have orders to go through to Villa Ahumada, he behaved very foolishly.

Three hours later, when Spillsbury had crossed to the American side of the International bridge, he was asked:

"Do you know the contents of the statement General Trevino issued regarding your claim that the Carrizal fight resulted from Captain Boyd's action?"

"I do," he answered. "Do you still stick to that statement?"

"I certainly do."

"Were you coerced into making it?"

"I was not."

"You will not change your story now that you are safe on American soil?"

"No, I certainly will not. But I refuse to answer any more questions.

Only 76 Men Engaged.

Spillsbury said that immediately on his arrival in Chihuahua City the commander of the Mexican army corps of the north sent for him and asked him to outline the Carrizal encounter as he saw it, which he did. He said he was unable to say who fired the first shot and added that the American command engaged there numbered 76 men, ten of the original 86 comprising the detachment having been sent back from Santa Maria.

"We had been on a scouting expedition for several days when Captain Charles T. Boyd, commanding the troops, told me that we were bound for Villa Ahumada to investigate reports that bandits were in that vicinity and to locate a deserter," he said. "We arrived outside Carrizal a week ago last Wednesday and Captain Boyd sent a messenger in to General Gomez, commanding the Carranza troops there, asking permission to pass through the town toward Ahumada on a peaceful mission.

"General Gomez replied by sending Lieutenant Colonel Rives out to confer with Captain Boyd. A parley, at which I was interpreter, was held in the center of the field. The Mexican officer told Captain Boyd that his orders were that Americans could not advance south, east or west. Captain Boyd then asked for a personal interview with General Gomez and this was granted.

Firing Suddenly Began.

"General Gomez reiterated the information given by his subordinate and returned to his lines. A few minutes later, almost simultaneously, both commands formed in lines of skirmish. Then a detachment of Carranza troops ran around our left flank, apparently to surround us. We found ourselves in the center of a line of Mexicans, stretching in a horseshoe-like curve about us. Then the firing began.

"I don't know who began it but from the center of the horseshoe a Mexican machine gun poured a hail of bullets at us, while from the point of the curve on our left flank another was firing at us.

Spillsbury's description of the battle was practically the same as previously given out by other sources. The scout said that after the second conference he had urged Captain Boyd not to advance in the face of the contrary orders of the Mexican leaders, but was told that the officer should follow instructions.

"'Don't fire until you are fired upon, boys,' I heard Captain Boyd shout as he gave the order to advance over my earnest protests," the scout added.

Spillsbury said he was surrounded by a band of Mexicans who forced him to surrender and threatened to shoot him immediately, believing him to be a Texas Mexican and consequently in the open, a traitor to Mexico.

"Again at Chihuahua City I was told that the governor of the state had ordered my execution," said Spillsbury, "and not until I had talked with General Trevino was I relieved of the impression."

Treated Courteously.

Spillsbury and the prisoners asserted that they had received nothing but the most courteous treatment at the hands of the Mexican soldiery, who made every effort to control the inflamed civil population of several towns who suffered them bodily. They were stoned, they said, at Villa Ahumada when they were put on the train. They were confined in individual cells in the Chihuahua penitentiary, Spillsbury said, but throughout the days they were allowed the liberty of a small parlo.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon Andres Garcia, Mexican consul at El Paso, telephoned General Bell, who was waiting at El Paso, that the Mexican officials were ready to transfer their charges. General Bell and his aides proceeded to the International bridge at about the same time that the captives were marched out of the Commandancia.

As the Americans and their guards, headed by General Gonzales, Consul Garcia and Manuel Prieto, mayor of Juarez, stepped on the Mexican end of the bridge, General Bell and his staff advanced toward them from the American side.

"Good afternoon, general," said General Gonzales.

"Good afternoon, gentlemen," the American commander replied.

Prisoners Delivered.

"Now if you will be so good as to have the men whom I understand you have for me advance one at a time we can check them off," said GeneralBell.

When the last name had been checked, General Bell signed a receipt for the troopers and they were taken to the United States immigration building where they were bathed in vinegar, given clean new suits of blue overals, loaded i na motor ambulance and taken through a line of cheering citizens, through the center of the city to Fort Bliss. The authorities, fearing to antagonize Juarez and other Mexicans in the city, sought to put an end to the applause.

are some of the things that I do believe in.

Our Country First.

"In the first place, I believe and I summon you to show our belief in the same thing, that it is the duty of every American in everything that he does, in his business and out of it, to think first, not of himself or of any interest which he may be called upon to sacrifice, but of the country which we serve. 'America First' means nothing until you translate it in what you do. So I believe most profoundly in the duty of every American to exalt the National consciousness by purifying his own motives and exhibiting his own devotion.

"I believe, in the second place, that America, the country that we put first in our thoughts, should be ready in every point of policy and of action to vindicate at whatever cost the principles of liberty, of justice and of humanity to which we have been devoted from the first. You cheer the sentiment, but do you realize what it means? It means that you have not only got to be just to your fellowmen, but that as a nation you have got to be just to other nations. It comes high. It is not an esy thing to do.

In International Affairs.

"It is easy to think first of the material interest of America, but it is not easy to think first of what America, if she loves justice, ought to do in the field of international affairs. I believe that at whatever cost America should be just to other peoples and treat other peoples as the demands that they should treat her. She has a right to demand that they treat her with justice and respect, and she has a right to insist that they treat her in that fashion, but she cannot with dignity or with self-respect insist upon that unless she is willing to act in th esame fashion towards them. That I am ready to fight for at any cost to myself.

"Then, in the third place, touching ourselves more intimately, my fellow citizens, this is what I believe: If I understand the life of America, the central principle of it is this, that no small body of persons, no matter how influential, shall be trusted to determine the policy and development of America. You know what you want in your business. You want a fair field and no favor. You want to be given the same opportunity that other men have, not only to make known what you have to sell but to sell it under as favorable conditions as anybody else, and the principle of the life of America is that she draws her vitality, not from small bodies of men who may wish to assume the responsibility of guiding and controlling her, but from the great body of thinking and toiling and planning men from whom she draws her energy and vitality as a nation.

Advice of the Average Man.

"I believe, and this is the reason I am a Democrat, not merely with a big 'D' but with a little 'd'—I am all kinds of a Democrat so far as I can discover—but the root of the whole business is this, that I believe in the patriotism and energy and initiative of the average man. Some men say they believe in it, but when they act, the yshow that they do not. They show that they think the only advice that it is safe to take is their advice.

"I was not referring to any individual but I could give you an interesting and a very short list of a group of individuals who have that opinion, namely, that it is not safe for the United States to escape from their control. * * *

"Can you imagine, my fellow countrymen, a more inspiring thing than to belong to a free nation and make your way among men, every one of whom has the right and the opportunity to say what he thinks? Criticism does not hurt anybody. I heard an old politician say to his son, 'John, don't bother your head about lies and slanders; they will take care of themselves, but if you ever hear me denying anything, you may make up your mind that it is so.' I have such an inveterate confidence in the ultimate triumph of the truth that I feel, with old Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, that the Truth is no invalid and you need not mind how roughly you handle her. She has got a splendid constitution and she will survive every trial and every labor."

formation of the Ulster volunteers, and said:

"We have seen the constitutional army refuse to obey the constitutional government and we were told the first duty of Irishmen was to enter that army. If small nations were to be the first consideration—I saw no reason why Ireland should shed any blood for any people but her own. If that be treason I am not ashamed to avow it here. If the unionists chase teh road they thought would lead to the good side, I knew my road led to the dark side. Both of us proved right. So I am prouder to stand here, in a traitor's dock, than to fill the place of my accusers.

"Self-government is our right. It is no more a thing to be withheld from us or doled out to us than the right to life or light, to sunshine or spring flowers."

Throwing aside his manuscript, Sir Roger said:

"My lords, I have done. Gentlemen of the jury, I wish to thank you for your verdict. I meant no reflection upon you when I said this was not a trial by my peers."

MR. GODWIN WILL NOT COME HOME TO VOTE FOR HIMSELF

Will Remain in Washington, Leaving His Interests With Friends.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., June 29.—Representative H. L. Godwin, who is contesting for his seat in a second primary with Joseph A. Brown, said tonight that his case was now in the hands of the people, and that he felt confident of victory Saturday. Mr. Godwin said he would not go home to vote, because there are matters here demanding his attention, and he wants to be on hand to uphold the hand of the President as he has done on all other occasions.

Mr. Godwin said the report circulated that he had dodged votes was not true. He declared he never dodged a vote in his life, and that his political enemies knew this. Mr. Godwin said he voted against the Child Labor bill because he believed it unconstitutional. "In doing this," said Mr. Godwin, "I voted the same way Senators Overman and Simmons will vote when the bill comes up in the Senate.

San Antonio, June 29. — Any delay by Carranza will be of inestimable benefit to the United States should open hostilities develop lyater, army officers here pointed out today, as it would allow the National Guardsmen to release 35,000 regulars now doing duty on the border, as well as permit mobilization of supplies, transport facilities and an aerial service. No such advantage would accrue to Mexico, they believe.

departure of various units poured in from all sides.

Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate, made public a copy of the statement by Lem Spillsbury, interpreter for Captain Boyd and one of the prisoners turned over today at El Paso to the American military authorities. It lays the blame for the clash upon the Americans.

Final decision by Washington officials as to responsibility for the fighting cannot be reached until a complete report from General Pershing is received.

"MY ONLY REGRET IS I DIDN'T KNOW ABOUT IT SOONER"

Declares Mrs. M. E. Thomas In Telling How Tanlac Helped Her After Many Other Medicines Failed.

"I am sorry I didn't know of Tanlac sooner," is the only regret Mrs. M. E. Thomas has to register against Tanlac. "On the whole, I feel as good as any person at 73 years old could expect," explained Mrs. Thomas to the Tanlac Man. "Tanlac has helped me more than any medicine I have ever taken, and I advise everyone troubled as long as I was to take plenty of it.

"For years I suffered from stomach trouble, mainly through indigestion, and attacks of a drawing feeling throughout my entire body gripped me frequently, especially in recent months. To gain temporary relief from such conditions, I had to take stimulants to relax my system. Gas accumulations would form and cause further distress. I also suffered from fluttering of the heart. My sleep was irregular and many a night I didn't sleep at all.

"Then I took Tanlac, the good results of which I had learned from various people. And it surely has improved my digestion. I can eat much better than before, am not nervous and sleep well all nights. In the mornings when I awake I feel refreshed," concluded Mrs. Thomas, who resides at 810 West Trade street, Charlotte.

This ideal reconstructive tonic-appetizer, invigorant and blood and system purifier is sold only in Wilmington at the Bellamy Drug Store, where the Tanlac Man explains to many men and women how it should be taken, and the results that may be expected from its use. C. L. Halstead sells Tanlac in Burgaw; A. N. Rhodes & Co., Rocky Point; J. L. Southall, Magnolia; Watson's Pharmacy, Southport; G. W. Kirby, Supply; Bradham Drug Co., New Bern. Each town has a Tanlac druggist.

PREPAREDNESS

What Is the Meaning of the Word?

It MEANS — have you PREPARED against all emergencies? Have you PREPARED against sickness, death in your family, loss of your job or other unforseen drawbacks?

Young Men: Are you Spending More than you should, instead of putting something aside for a RAINY DAY?

If you are married, are you looking out for your loved ones by establishing a RESERVE FUND?

Young Women: Are you putting aside a SMALL amount, weekly or monthly, out of your earnings, to take care of yourself in sickness or loss of position?

"A stitch in time saves nine." 25c saved weekly means $100.00 at a time when you will need that hundred dollars the most.

The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association will open a new series of stock next Saturday, July 1st. Issue limited to 500 shares. Don't wait until all the stock is sold, but subscribe NOW. You will not only SAVE money, but you will make a GOOD profit on your investment.

You can subscribe for ONE share or FIFTY. Don't delay. Remember, 25c. per week per share nets you $100.00 per share at maturity.

Under the new tariffs, the new through rate from the Middle West gateways to North Carolina will be 82 cents, a reduction of 11 cents.

The Difference.

Under the old tariff, the Virginia city jobbers bought goods from the Middle West manufacturers, and after receiving them could re-ship the commodities to various North Carolina retail towns at practically the same freight rates which the North Carolina jobbers had to pay on the original shipments from the West.

The North Carolina jobbers, therefore, claimed they were suffering from a freight rate disadvantage within their own State and declared that it should be removed. The new tariffs, which were put into effect by the railroads at the suggestion of the North Carolina Corporation Commission, give the North Carolina jobbers class rates lower by from 11 to 4 cents per 100 pounds than the old schedules, and enable them to compete with the Virginia cities. NOTICE

"The State Board of Elections, having canvassed the returns of the counties constituting the Sixth Congressional District of the Primary held on the 3rd day of June, and finding that no one secured a majority of votes and that Hannibal L. Godwin and Joseph A. Brown received the highest number of votes, now in pursuance of Section 24 of the Primary Law, the State Board of Elections orders that a second Primary be held on Saturday, July 1st, 1916, in which Godwin and Brown may be voted for."

(Signed) WILSON G. LAMB,

Chairman State Board of Elections.

In accordance with the above and for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District, a primary will be held in New Hanover County on Saturday, July 1st, between the hours of sunrise and sunset. The same voting precincts, registrars and judges of election as served in the General Primary will serve in this Primary.

HELLER MAKES DEBUT AND WINS FROM ROCKY MOUNT

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 29.—A new southpaw moundsman by the name of Heller made his debut with the Tars and won his game by the score of 6 to 3 in one that was truly the lucky variety. The flinger yielded up ten hits, passed seven and errored twice himself, but it all cost him but three runs. Opposing him, Jarman pitched a much better game, did not pass a man but the slashes against him told in the run getting and the miscues of his team-mates were costly.

New York, June 29.—The Philadelphia Champions checked their slump today when, after suffering five straight defeats they won a double-header from New York 4 to 0 and 5 to 2. In the first game Rixey pitched remarkably, as only 27 Giants faced him. Three of New York's four hits off him were followed by double plays.

In the second game the veteran Chief Bender, hero of five world's series victories over the Giants, showed a flash of his old-time form and held the Giants to seven scattered hits.

BEGINNERS' SHOOT TODAY.

New Hanover Gun Club Will Have Important Event This Afternoon.

The beginners' shoot to be held this afternoon beginning at 3:30 o'clock is expected to attract a large crowd as well as many entries. The shoot will be held on the grounds of the club at 17th and Castle streets. A handsome trophy will be awarded the winner in the event. All beginners, who had not shot over 500 targets at a trap shoot prior to May 1st, are invited to participate.

Those in charge of the event state that there will be plenty of guns on hand, so that all can be supplied and extend an invitation to the public to attend.

WILL HAVE GAMES IN CITY

City Baseball League Decides to Accept Invitation of Council—Reorganization of Club.

The City Baseball League composed of four live and active teams has decided to accept the invitation to have its games on the new grounds at Eighth and Ann streets on the government property, which has recently been fitted up into playgrounds with two baseball diamonds, one for the men and the other for the boys. The first games of the League will be played tomorrow afternoon. Editor James H. Cowan, of The Evening Dispatch, has accepted the invitation of City Council to toss the first ball across the diamond tomorrow and to make a short address.

Promptly at 3 o'clock the first game will start with the Immanuel team and the Boy's Brigade opposing each other. These two teams have been going well of late and it should be a splendid contest. The W. L. I. and the Delgado teams will meet in the second contest, which will begin at 5 o'clock. Both of these teams have been showing up well during the past few weeks and they will, no doubt, stage a good game.

No admission will be charged to the game, but a collection will be taken to aid in defraying the running expenses of the teams. No grand stand has yet been provided, but it is understood that should the crowds warrant such, the City Council will take steps to have one erected immediately. An invitation is extended to the general public to be present.

At a reorganization meeting of the managers of the four teams composing the League on Wednesday night it was decided to abolish the offices of president, secretary and treasurer, etc., and to elect instead a general manager, who is to have general charge of all the affairs of the club. Mr. L. F. Gore, who has been the very capable secretary and treasurer, for the past year, was elected to this position.

Moran Is Beaten By Frank Dillon

IS OUT-FOUGHT AND OUTPOINTED IN NINE ROUNDS OF TEN-ROUND BOUT LAST NIGHT AT NEW YORK

Ne wYork, June 29.—Although outweighed by fully 35 pounds, and having a disadvantage of nearly six inches in height, Jack Dillon, the Indianapolis light-heavyweight, cleverly outfought and out-pointed Frank Moran, the Pittsburg heavyweight, in nine rounds in a ten-round bout at the Federal League baseball grounds, Washington park, tonight.

Moran's weight was announced as 204 pounds stripped, and Dillon's 169, in fighting togs. The Indianapolis man was in fine condition but Moran looked fat.

Dillon was the aggressor from the start, although Moran landed the first blow to the head. Moran started off to battle down his opponent but Dillon was too fast and clever.

Moran swung two hard rights to the stomach at the start, but Dillon's fast short lefts and rights to the body and face gave him a shade better of the round.

In the second Moran missed several attempts to land his right swing, while Dilon bored in with both hands at close quarters, always having the better of the milling. The third round was the only one in which Moran had the advantage. He drove Dillon to the ropes with left and right smashes to the head and body, both hands working at close range. Toward the end Dillon made a fast rally, but Moran sent two left hooks to the body and a right to the head. At the close of the round Moran seemed to be exhausted.

Dillon rushed and smashed rights and lefts and uppercuts at close quarters, sending the blood flying from Moran's nose in the fourth. During the next six rounds Dillon always had the upper hand, ducking Moran's swings or rushing to close quarters and landing three blows to Moran's one. Moran's one. Moran made frequent but ineffectual attempts to get over a right swing.

Moran tried desperately to land a punch in the tenth and got Dillon on the ropes with swinging lefts and rights to he body but Dillon came back at close range again and uppercut Moran's left eye, so the Pittsburgher left the ring with a swollen nose and his left eye bleeding freely.

FRIDAY, JUNE 30, 1916.

TOP O' THE MORNING.

Men are usually tempted by the devil, but an idle man positively tempts the devil. —ADDISON.

Where are the interventionists mobilizing?

Now and then we have to face a stern duty.

The question about all controversies is "who tho'd dat fuss brick lass?"

It's funny how the egotists sooner or later get nominated for president by the Republicans.

The Democrats of the Sixth district are going to nominate a man tomorrow who can win in a walk in November.

It is announced that the Earl of Sandwich is dead. It was hardly possible for him to live on the size of sandwiches no won duty.

This country is right because it has been slow to anger. Patience is the best sign that tolerance has been exercised to even the breaking point.

We can't say that the Progressive party lived only four years, for real Progressives might reorganize it and keep Colonel Roosevelt from giving it away to the G. O. P.

"You can find the stinging snake in Louisiana," says the Brandon (La.) News. We don't want to find any stinging snake. What we are after is "the snake in the grass."

The Macon Telegraph is printing the pictures of the members of the Georgia Legislature. That may prove to be the best possible way to expose the kind of a legislature that Georgia has.

The Republicans are disappointed because Roosevelt did not consider it worthwhile to mention the necessity of a protective tariff. We guess it was because he knows that there is no such necessity.

We had an idea that a great many Progressives who were devoted to principle woul dresent the scuttling of the party without so much as a ceremony. Who ever heard of a party which one man could put out of business over the long distance phone?

Horace may have said it and Bill Nye may have repeated it, but because a man can assume a solemn appearance it is no evidence of his being possessed of profound knowledge. He may be a jingo who is thinking of himself as a slacker.

Some of those presidential candidates imagine that if they were only president nothing at all could happen to the country. Why, if some of them were elected, the balance of us would be afraid that national decadence would set in right away.

The chat which Chief Justice Clark had with The Star in yesterday's paper concerning the opportunities of women in getting appointments to public positions, or "offices," was confined chiefly to an expression of his personal gratification, but those who appreciate a chortling kind of humor can observe it by reading between the lines, in which there was "no meaning of any harm."

The Columbia State observes: "Lawyer Charles E. Hughes thinks that had he been president, the Lusitania would not have been torpedoed. Being on the bench, why didn't he issue an injunction when it was threatened?" If the Hon. Hughes should happen to get elected to the presidency, he would be surprised to find out how little control a president has over what happens and there would be plenty of fools to blame him for being so weak and vacillating as to let the whole country verge on the wreck and ruin of the ancient Roman empire in spite of her mighty emperors. So far as what happens is concerned, potentates cut about as much ice as "small potatoes" in South Carolina.

THE IMPENDING CONFLICT WITH MEXICO

With the delivery of 23 American prisoners at El Paso yesterday in accordance with President Wilson's demand upon General Carranza, provisional president of Mexico, only one of several grave issues is temporarily, perhaps, eliminated. There are others even more grave, it seems to us, for the holding on to the few American soldiers captured at Carrizal was only an incident of a much graver cause, of the tension that prevails. There is the Carrizal attack itself, for instance, and the grave possibilities of further overt acts by both Mexicans and Americans, either liable to throw all the fat in the fire.

The main cause of tension, of course, is the presence of the American military forces on Mexican territory, and the danger of bandit raids. So long as a foreign army occupies Mexican soil there are strong possibilities of even greater conflicts than that at Carrizal. The cause for friction is still there and so are the general Mexican conditions over which neither the American army nor Carranza has control up to this time.

The surrender of the Carrizal prisoners indicates a desire on the part of Carranza to avoid the consequences of a war with this country. It only opens the way for further diplomacy, however, but diplomacy is liable to fall down at any time so long as an American army is in Mexico and general Mexican conditions remain what they are now. It is in these elements that danger lurks, and it is believed, therefore, that war may be postponed but that it is inevitable at no far distant day. That certainly is true unless there is rapid and permanent change in the conditions which foment strife and keep up the tension, likely at any moment to reach the breaking point.

Indeed, if President Wilson does succeed at last in averting war by means of diplomacy, the country will be with him, for there is no great patriotic impulse stirring the American population to war on all the Mexican people. Our People, of course, are determined to protect their country at any hazard, but so far as making war on all the Mexican people for what their bandits and irresponsible chiefs have done, there is little stomach in this country for making a bad situation worse for both the Mexicans and ourselves. A pretty fair idea of this is thus presented in Commerce and Finance, New York, by Editor Theodore H. Price, who gets his impression from extensive travel:

"As we write, war with Mexico seems inevitable. Deplorable as it will be there appears to be no escape from it.

"Last week the writer visited the cities of Chicago, Cleveland and Cincinnati. In neither the Middle West nor the East has he discerned any vindictive enthusiasm for the conflict that has been forced upon us.

"On the other hand there is not the slightest doubt as to the outcome or any reluctance to face the sacrifice or perform the duty which the situation imposes.

"It is realized that our sudden call to arms has revealed our unpreparedness and that the practical acceleration of our preparation for defense that will follow the mobilization of our soldiery is the silver lining of the cloud that overhangs us.

"There is also to be noticed an obliteration of the lines of foreign nationalism that previously divided our people in some sections and whether the Mexican campaign be long or short it will undoubtedly solidify the nation and quicken the patriotism of all Americans.

"As to the economic consequences of the war, if indeed a struggle between two belligerents who are or will be so unevenly matched can be called war, there is not and need not be any apprehension. The prevailing opinion is that we will ultimately establish an orderly and beneficent government in Mexico under which the Mexican people either with or without our permanent assistance will prosper greatly.

"The reciprocal gain to us will doubtless be great but there is a deep-seated feeling that this gain would be loss if it should be secured through a war undertaken in a spirit of conquest or revenge.

"Quite naturally a feeling of caution has spread over the business world as our young men have been called to join the colors. It has brought home to us the meaning of war more vividly than all the news of the European struggle could do.

"It is felt that in a soberer mood the people may spend less freely and extravagantly than recently and that trade may be somewhat slowed down in consequence.

"It is also feared that the scarcity of labor may be intensified by the recruiting; that there may be more or less industrial dislocation and that higher interest rates may follow the inevitable expenditure and borrowing of the government.

"Against this there is to be put the increased activity that the equipment and movement of our troops will induce and the speculation that war always engenders.

"Taken collectively it may be said that the people of the United States face a probable war with Mexico as a duty upon the performance of which they enter unafraid but with regret that it should be necessary and inevitable. Their academic acquaintance with the horrors of the European struggle had led them to hope that we might be spared the same experiences here but the economic endurance that modern society has shown in the face of war leaves them absolutely unconcerned as to the financial consequences of any campaign that we may have to undertake."

Much depends, of course, upon the attitude and sincerity of Carranza and his seemingly irresponsible military chiefs, who it must be admitted are hard to control, since some of them were only recently arrayed against him. While the American people are incensed against the practically few Mexicans guilty of outrages against Americans and American territory, the one thing which takes war distasteful to Americans generally is that they would have to make war against an already impoverished people as a whole because a few villainous bands are creating the causes which must inevitably lead to war in the end, unless almost providential circumstances avert such an unwelcome calamity.

We judge from what Editor Price says, that it would greatly add to the prestige and popularity of President Wilson if he should finally bring peace out of the present prospective chaos.

NECESSARY FOR US TO DO SOMETHING.

Those most keenly interested in the development of Wilmington more seriously than ever appreciate the fact that we must do something to provide this city with industries and to develop the idle territory hereabouts, if Wilmington is expected to keep up with other cities in progress and growth.

Our citizens are just now working along a very potential line that will develop the city within as well as develop the rural section without. The committee in charge of the packing house proposition now under consideration will proceed to secure subscriptions to the capital stock and they will be but proceeding with an enterprise which many Southern communities have seized upon as the best means of providing meat packing industries in the South and thereby promote the livestock industry on the farms.

The Atlanta Constitution notes remarkable evidence of a desire on the part of the people, and especially the farmers, for the establishment of packing houses to provide ready markets for cattle and hogs and thus encourage the farmers to raise them. Macon has figured on the proposition and the movement there for a packing house is unanimous, both among the people in the city and among the farmers. A hog census taken in ten adjacent counties, and the possibilities of a large increase in hog raising, convinced the people there that all they had to do was to proceed to business. The presence of hogs in the Macon territory is sufficient to make the promoters see the need of a packing house and to realize the greater possibilities that this development will make certain.

The farmers state that with the cultivation of soy beans, peanuts, corn and silo products, the South can raise hogs cheaper than any other portion of America. Therefore, they recognize the fact that the possibilities are unlimited for making this a meat producing country.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN

The Hughes-Roosevelt dinner and confab at the Republican nominee's headquarters in New York on Wednesday night lasted more than two and a half hours. Afterwards Mr. Hughes stated that he and Colonel Roosevelt were "in complete accord", while the Bull Moose declared that he and Mr. Hughes "had a most satisfactory talk and that he was greatly pleased." The Colonel also made it plain that he agrees with the attitude Mr. Hughes has assumed towards the questions at issue in the campaign and he assured the nominee that he would support him with the utmost heartiness. It was even agreed that Colonel Roosevelt is to make three or four speeches in Candidate Hughes' behalf.

All this indicates that there is a complete understanding between Hughes, the supposed conservative, and Roosevelt, the radical and whilom Republican party "buster." We wonder if Hughes has concluded to be radical enough to suit Roosevelt or whether Roosevelt has become conservative enough to agree with a man who has been ranked as a conservative. In fact, nobody but the Colonel knows for a fact whether Hughes is either conservative or radical, since the former justice has not talked enough to enable the general run of people to decide just what it is he stands for.

The fact that the Hughes attitude pleases Roosevelt shows that Hughes has been talking to suit the Colonel so well that he is enthusiastic for the nominee. Roosevelt's hearty approval of Hughes will give people cause to change their former opinion of the nominee who has heretofore managed to conceal what he really stands for.

We are enabled to judge so far that Mr. Hughes is not averse to depending upon Wall Street for his campaign fund. The selection of Mr. William R. Willcox, a New York politician, as the Hughes campaign manager and National Republican chairman, indicates the purpose of securing a manager who is Johnny on the money spot and thoroughly familiar with the methods of getting hold of the money bags. Long before the selection of a campaign manager was made, a good gambler would have bet all he is worth that the man chosen would live in money town and that headquarters would be in "the world's greatest financial center." That was a cinch, and it takes no prophet to predict that fat frying is again considered the main feature of Republican campaign methods.

One of the interesting signs so far is that numerous members of the Progressive party do not consider themselves bound to follow Roosevelt, who misled the Progressive convention at Chicago into believing that it represented a party which had a say of its own and could not be surrendered by the Bull Moose to the G. O. P. in accordance with his own will. There are indications in New York, Indiana and possibly other states that a large element of the Progressive party is disposed to act independently if not resentfully as to Roosevelt's deliberate purpose of bartering away the party independent of the Progressives. Thousands do not purpose to be handed over as pawns by one man—even though he be the Bull Moose himself.

A BIG SETTLEMENT PROPOSITION

We are reminded of what is to be a large eastern North Carolina settlement proposition by an article in the Manufacturers Record, referring to the progress of the work in the Columbus County Drainage No. 2,, at and near Bolton, on the Atlantic Coast Line, not far from Wilmington. Mr. F. L. Finkenstaedt, chairman of the drainage district, writes from Bolton that the drainage canals and laterals will be completed by October, opening up for settlement about 29,000 acres of rich alluvial lands.

The district has a main canal and nine laterals, aggregating some 42 miles in length. About 1,500,000 yards of earth will be excavated, and already a large portion of the cut-over lands of the tract have been sufficiently drained for the purposes of agriculture. The canals vary in cross section from a bottom width of 30 feet and depth of nine feet, to 14 feet width with a depth of seven feet. The work is being done with floating dipper dredges which operate under their own steam and navigate forward as they go.

This drainage work will open up lands of the most desirable character and there will be 42 miles of roadways along the canal and ditch banks, which are converted into intersecting roads, 16 feet in width at present. There will be plenty of material to make the roads wider when necessity demands it. The canals and ditches will be crossed by eleven 30-foot bridges and three 50-foot bridges.

The land within the district is owned largely by the Waccamaw Lumber Company and the North Carolina Company, of Chicago. The contract was originally let to an engineering and construction company, but last November it was deemed feasible to continue the work with Mr. W. Worth Bean, Jr., of Bolton, trustee and superintendent of construction.

Superintendent Bean is a most capable man and he is pushing to completion what is one of the biggest undertakings in North Carolina at this time. When the project is ready, the land companies will open this large area for colonization and farm settlement purposes. It is enterprises like this which will sooner or later bring to Eastern North Carolina a large number of desirable settlers.

Carranza may really not prove so obstinate as Huerta who defined the United States and brought about his own destruction. The old Indian did not get much for showing us a good imitation of Ajax defying the lightning. Ajax has been dead for centuries, but the lightning is still doing business.

THAT TELEGRAM FROM ROBESON

To the Editor of The Star:

Your correspondent has viewed with interest the telegram from Robeson to Hon. F. M. Simmons. This is my deduction: As to refuting a personal attack Mr. Simmons and others would be competent witnesses in Mr. Godwin's behalf. But if they made signed statements to be used in flaring headlines accompanying the Godwin photo, it looks to me as they are meddling in local politics. However, I give them the benefit of the doubt, and rather believe that it's the work of over-zealous Godwin clubs. As far as Mr. Godwin's Democracy goes, I have not heard that assailed by any of his opponents. We are all Democrats and have a right to differ in our opinions as to the ability and fitness of our representatives. The cheap methods that are employed may have their bearing on the unsuspecting, but no intelligent man who thinks for himself will be influenced thereby.

One of the greatest privileges an American citizen has is his ballot. I for one would that our young men especially realized this more fully and took more interest in this great country of ours.

I feel that the State-wide primary is all right in spirit, but a few more safeguards might be added.

Unlike Europe and Mexico, the battle in the Bloody Sixth will be over after Saturday. But, judging from the tone of your Lumberton correspondent, there is and will be hot times in that old town.

In conclusion, I think it would be fitting for Mr. Simmons to rebuke the use of his statement as a campaign advertisement, when he is himself a representative of us of the Sixth as well as Godwin or Brown, if the latter is nominated. As to Hon. Mr. Kitchin, it rather strikes me that he is rather a weak witness on the question of loyalty to the President, as that has been severely criticised, notwithstanding his high rank that all of us are proud belongs to a North Carolinian.

As to our President, he would have said as much for any good Democrat, and his great mind is weighted with far heavier matters than our selection of a congressman.

Respectfully,
E. D. M'LEAN.

Bladenboro, N. C., June 28. 1915.

AS A COLUMBUS MAN SEES IT.

To the Editor of The Star:

I enclose herewith both pink and white cotton blooms, which are the first seen on our farm this season; in fact the first heard of in this neighborhood so far. This is not early for cotton blooms, as compared with former years. Usually we have them by the 15th of June, but all crops are 10 to 15 days later than usual this spring on account of the long spell of dry weather we had about planting time.

We are having fine seasons now. Most crops are free of grass and growing beautifully. The farmers who had wheat planted this year report very satisfactory yields and a fine grade of grain. No doubt much larger wheat crops will be sown another season, for all we lack of making our own biscuit is the proper facilities for harvesting and milling. Sorry to report a rather small fruit crop. Everybody has fine gardens. Health conditions were never better.

Our people are right anxious about the Mexican situation but believe that our great leader, Mr. Wilson, will meet the issue in the most satisfactory way.

Politics have reached the boiling point again, and we are so glad we can take the pot off again Saturday and let the old thing cool for a while. "Give us a rest." Everybody in Bladen and Columbus counties you hear express themselves are supporting Joe Brown.

The writer had the pleasure of attending one day of the Good Roads convention, together with several members of his family. We went down through the country in our "Tin Lizzie" and made the trip, a distance of about 50 miles, in a little over two hours. We were disappointed in the ferry across Cape Fear river. This, we think, needs considerable improvement, as it is not in keeping with our progressive city of Wilmington. We hope to see the necessary improvement made promptly. This we think will be in keeping with the spirit of public highway improvement. If we could have a ferry boat like the ones used between Portsmouth and Norfolk, it would be safe and correct. The traveling public would not mind paying for good, safe, quick service for a ferry of the Norfolk type.

Speaking of good roads, everybody all over the good old State of North Carolina is so enthusiastic over good roads and my county (Columbus) is no exception, for the good work has been going on here for some time under the skilful management and direction of our board of county commissioners.

Respectfully,
J. M. SMITZ.

Elkton, N. C., June 27.

CURRENT COMMENT

Life at Wrightsville Beach seems to be just one convention after another.—Charlotte News.

The Wilmington Star is having a very bad attack of it, for it announces "This is the town! It's name is Winsome, Worthwhile Wilmington." Cute, isn't it?—Raleigh News and Observer.

The Wilmingon Morning Star twinkled ever so brightly with its souvenir Good Roads edition. The issue was an excellent one and will prove a help to the cause of good roas.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The New York Sun calls it "a war from which the people of the United States shrink with disgust." If President Wilson had said that a month ago it would have been branded as the utterance of a mollycoddle.—Charlotte Observer.

The Saltillo newspaper which advices its readers to "drink the blood in the skulls of the Yankee land invaders, if it is possible to do so," and evidently is worrying somewhat as to the amount of blood a Mexican stomach will hold, might start in on Carranza's cocoanut, which, we'll bet a week's wages, doesn't hold enough of blood—or brains—to puff up a good-sized mosquito.—Raleigh Times.

The Bank of Clinton has placed on a telephone pole at the intersection of Main and Lisbon streets, a large sign stating that motorists will be furnished information in the bank about the road to Wilmington. Such evidences of courtesy on the part of our business organizations is bound to produce a favorable impression on people passing through the town. The Democrat has repeatedly urged that signs be put up at all the cross roads and the principal forks in the county, and it believes that the cost will be more than compensated for by convenience to travelers and the favorable impression of the county which will invariably result. Travelers who lose their way on bad roads are more than likely to go away "cussing" Sampson county.—Sampson Democrat, Clinton.

The Daily News some days ago declared that if less than 500 of the State's 3,000 guardsmen were rejected as physically unfit this paper would be surprised and delighted; and if 1,000 were turned down it would not be greatly disturbed. The examinations of the first companies of the first infantry resulted in the rejection of 47 men out of 232—a fraction over 20 per cent. If this proportion holds throughout the guard we will have about 600 men out of the 3,000 rejected. Major General O'Ryan, of the New York Guard, and Major General Wood, of the regular army, told a reporter day before yesterday that 30 per cent. would be a low estimate of the proportion of guardsmen who would fail to meet the physical test in the country at large. One officer in the surgeon general's department makes the gloomy prediction that if Uncle Sam winnows 60,000 first class fighting men out of the 128,000 guardsmen called to the colors, he will do well. In the light of these figures the record of the North Carolina troops, so far from being discreditable, is excellent.—Greensboro News.

Mr. Warren, Democratic chairman of North Carolina, looks over the field and see nothing but sunshine. He feels that this fall the Old North State is going to go at least 50,000 for Wilson and Democracy. The Republicans do not see it in this light—but if there are some fifty thousand more Democrats than Republicans then the Republican party has certainly failed to follow the Bull Moose leader. The Republicans claim, normally about 90,000 votes—and the question is: What will those Republicans do? It is a fact that cannot be gainsayed that most of the Republican party enlisted under the Roosevelt banner. Over two-thirds of the party that voted for McKinley followed Teddy. They were for him four years ago—they were for him in Chicago. His letter today sweeps them off their feet. He will not accept the nomination. He praises Hughes. Now if the Bull Meece folk are really in earnest they will nominate a new man. They will tell Teddy to go along with his rat-killing—that he has deserted them, and they propose to maintain the party. It may be that another man will be placed in nomination. If so, the question is: Can Teddy if he takes the stump for Hughes turn his followers with him It is a serious question. We are of opinion that many of the Meece crowd will, in disgust, vote for Wilson. They will rebuke their gallant erstwhile leader. Let them go to it.—Greensboro News (Ind.)

HEALTH IS WEALTH
by John B. Huber, A.M., M.D.

Health is the paradise of the body.—ST. THEODORE.

The Safe and Sane Fourth

THE celebration of the Glorious Fourth has changed considerably, for the better, and with no lack or loss on enthusiasm, since the American Medical Association started in to show how destructive of the lives of little children were the demonstrations of a decade ago; since it was shown, for example, by eloquent figures how in one city alone, New York, three successive Independence Days Netted a total of 1,389 persons killed and wounded by reason of fireworks—casualties greater than the total for the revolutionary battles of Lexington, Bunker Hill, Ft. Moultrie, White Plains, Fort Washington and Cowpens all combined. And our "celebration losses" were confined not to fighting men, but mostly to little children, some being killed outright and others maimed and disfigured for life.

In most communities throughout the Union we are now much wiser and the new style of Fourth is no longer a day of terror, but instead one of happiness and recreation for everybody, with no remorseful aftermath; and just as much patriotism as was ever evinced! The celebrations now are of music—of bands and of choruses drilled weekly beforehand by skilled leaders, and the singing of national airs and popular songs. There is a generous display of dear Old Glory, which denotes the better development of national and civic righteousness, and better citizenship in place of the rowdyism which has of recent years been rather rife in cities. There are tableaux, plays, floats devised by artists, representing historic and patriotic incidents and achievements, parades in which the Army and Navy, the police and fire departments, the militia, school children and industrial organizations take part; picnics; circusses with pink lemonade, peanuts, ice-cream and watermelon sufficient to satisfy the most anacondean digestion; parks and other public places and buildings, both public and private, are gorgeously illuminated by electricity; there are children's carnivals and dances; school celebrations, athletic sports, with distribution of copies of the Constitution and of the Gettysburg address, and so on. And with no maimings, no burnings, no tetanus, no occasion for anybody to worry except possibly the undertaker.

DISTRESS IN THE HEAD.

H. C. K. writes: I want to get your opinion as to the cause of a head trouble I have had for more than two years. I do not have much pain but have a tight, unnatural feeling in my head. When I am taking a nerve tonic I feel natural; but after stopping it for a few weeks the same unnatural feeling comes back. I have been troubled with constipation for a number of years. Do you think this complaint would affect my head?

Answer: You do not give me your age. If you are past forty your head sensations should warn you against possible apoplexy. Get yourself examined thoroughly, especially get your blood pressure taken. Whatever your age your sensations will be much relieved with the cure of your constipation. You will become really ill in time, with apoplexy or otherwise, if you do not have a stool a day.

SWOLLEN EYES.

E. writes: Can you advise a good remedy for swollen eyes. For the past two weeks my eyes have been continually swollen. I average about seven hours sleep each night. Swollen eyes are very annoying to me as they do not improve one's appearance, to say the least.

Answer: The cause here is either heart trouble or kidney trouble or anemia (poor and thin blood). Obviously your family doctor ought to make an examination and prescribe accordingly.

DRY SKIN.

Answer to Y. N.: Dry skin comes with many febrile diseases. Also with ailments in which there is a profuse discharge from the bowels, kidneys or stomach. If the skin is stretched or altered in structure, so that the skin circulation is hindered, dry skin follows. Doctors call this anidrosis.

NEGRO GETS SIX MONTHS

In Recorder's Court for Larceny of Suit of Clothes.

Heaviest punishment at yesterday's session of the Recorder's court was meted out to Buddie Ira colored, who was sent to the county roads for six months on the charge of the larceny of a suit of clothes belonging to Julius Bradly, colored.

Other cases disposed of were those of Damon Fisher, colored, charged with assault on Maggie Butler, which was continued until this morning; and that of Charles Holliday, colored, who was found not guilty of an assault charge.

CADET SHIP TO VISIT PORT

Itasca Will Spend Several Days in Wilmington in July—Vessel is Now Out on Cruise.

The cadet school ship Itasca, of the United States Coast Guard service, which is now on a three months' cruise with some fifteen or more cadets on board from the officers' training school at New London, Conn., is expected to arrive in Wilmington about July 17th, and remain in port perhaps for three or four days.

Capt. P. H. Uberroth, commanding the Coast Guard Cutter Seminole, has been advised of the expected visit of the Itasca and he and his staff are preparing to give them an enthusiastic welcome upon their arrival. The United States government recently set apart Fort Trumbull, near New London, as a training school, and the cadets besides receiving instructions there that will fit them for positions in the service as commissioned officers are required each year to go on a three months' cruise, which gives them, of course, something of the practical side of the cutter service, in other words permits them to get their "sea legs." The Itasca has been out with the cadets now for some time and will reach Wilmington on her trip northward. She is now somewhere between St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, ad Colon, Panama. Leaving Wilmington and proceeding north the Itasca will go as far as Penobscott Bay and then drop back down to New London, ending the cruise there.

The Itasca is well remembered here and was at one time on this station. She was selected for the cruise of the cadets because of the large accommodations on board and her special fitness for such a trip.

CONGRESSIONAL RACE WILL END TOMORROW

Supporters of Brown and Godwin Waging Strenuous Fight.

Polls Open at Sunrise and Stay Open to Sunset—Hon. J. A. Brown Closes Campaign With Speeches in County Tonight.

Hon. J. A. Brown, of Chadbourn, will close his campaign for Congress with two addresses in New Hanover tonight, the first being at 8 o'clock to the voters at Seagate and the second being to the voters of Wilmington at 8:45 o'clock at Third and Market streets. These will be the first addresses to be made by Mr. Brown in this county in several weeks.

Congressman Godwin since his visit to Wilmington soon after the first primary, has left the campaign in this county in the hands of his friends. This does not mean that a strenuous campaign has not been conducted, however, but it has been for the most part carried on very quietly as has that of the Brown forces.

The supporters of Congressman Godwin organized a Godwin club of several hundred members which has been hard at work lining up the voters for their candidate. The Brown forces have likewise organized a strong club which has had meetings at frequent intervals. The members have done much personal work.

For the reason that both sides in the campaign have been working rather quietly without creating any very great interest, so far as outside appearances are concerned, it is hard to make a forecast as to the number of votes that may be cast. In the first primary in New Hanover there were 2,900 votes cast while in the second primary this month there were only 2,700 votes. It is not expected that the number of votes tomorrow will run hardly more than 2,500 votes.

The supporters of obth Congressman Godwin and Brown are claiming the county and it is safe to say that each candidate is going to poll a good vote, but not so easy to say which will get the majority.

The polls tomorrow will open at sunrise, official time putting this at 5:04 o'clock, and will close at sunset, which will be at 7:29. This will afford ample time for everybody to vote.

The same registrars and judges who served in the first primary will also serve tomorrow. There are primaries to be held in several counties in the State tomorrow in addition to the counties composing the Sixth Congressional district.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

—Clement Manly, Esq., of Winston-Salem, and Solicitor Walter E. Brock, and T. L. Caudle, Esq., of Wadesboro, were guests last night at the Orton.

—Col. Robert Stride, of Southport, who is an enthusiastic huntsman and a good shot, arrived in the city last night and will this afternoon attend the weekly shoot of the New Hanover Gun Club. He is a guest at the Orton.

—Among the North Carolina arrivals at the Orton last night were E. J. Hill, Warsaw; N. M. Redfern, Monroe; C. R. Leonhardt, Chadbourn; Solicitor Homer L. Lyon, Whiteville; Rev. A. R. Parsley, Southport; L. McNeill, Fayetteville; James Steiner, Council.

ALLEGED HIGHWAY ROBBER ARRESTED BY THE POLICE

Henry Maybank, Colored, is Locked Up on Unusual Charge.

Henry Maybank, colored, was arrested last night by Officer J. F. Jordan and locked up at the police station on the charge of highway robbery in connection with the holding up of one Thos. Leaver on the night of June 13, when it is alleged the prisoner robbed his victim of $10 and a pistol.

Another arrest made by the police last night was that of Ernest Hobb, a young white boy, who is charged with having stolen a dozen milk bottles from the porch of Mr. H. L. Williamson, No. 1801 Castle street. The boy, when questioned at the police station declared he did not take the bottles.

—Among the North Carolina arrivals at the Imperial Hotel yesterday were J. H. Britton, Monroe; D. M. Jordan, Hamlet; Alonzo Melvin, White Oak; Jas. I. Kendrith, Wake Forest; R. J. Hester, Elizabethtown; Richard Cromartie, Garland.

SECRETARY M'ADOO INVITED

To Make Address at Convention of North Carolina Cotton Manufacturers' Association.

Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo has been invited by Congressman Charles M. Stedman, of Greensboro, to make the principal address at the annual convention of the North Carolina Cotton Manufacturers' Association, which will be held at Wrightsville Beach, July 21 and 22, according to a Washington dispatch. This convention will be attended by several hundred prominent cotton mill men from all parts of the State and is expected to be one of the principal meetings of the summer at the resort.

Mr. Hudson Miller, of Charlotte, secretary of the association, was recently in Wilmington to make arrangements for the meeting. He received assurances of the hearty co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club in making arrangements for entertaining the visitors.

One of the events arranged for the convention which will be of decided interest to the visitors will be a trip down the historic Cape Fear river on the coast guard cutter Seminole. Capt. P. H. Uberroth, the commanding officer of the vessel, has received orders to take the cotton mill men on the trip. Announcement of the proposed river journey was announced several weeks ago. Col. Walker Taylor, collector of customs for the port of Wilmington, submitted a request to the officials of the Treasury Department for permission to use the Seminole for the voyage.

GRAND JURY'S PROBE OF RECENT ELECTION

Shows A Number Of Illegal Registrations and Votes

Report to Superior Court Judge Recommends That More Modern and Sanitary Jail be Built for County—Adjourns.

The report of the Superior Court grand jury submitted yesterday morning to Judge C. C. Lyon, finds as a matter of fact that a number of citizens registered and voted unlawfully at the Wilmington city election in New Hanover county on June 3, though probably without intent of wrong-doing and through ignorance of the law requiring payment of poll tax as a pre-requisite to the exercise of their franchise. Recognizing the seriousness of such illegal registration and voting, the grand jury recommends that before any election is held in the future, full notice be given through the press and otherwise of the law governing registration and voting, and the penalty involved by violation of it. Following the submission of its report the members of the grand jury were discharged and court was adjourned for the term.

The text of the report as submitted by Capt. Thos. D. Meares, foreman of the grand jury, reads as follows:

"To His Honor, Judge C. C. Lyon, Presiding.

"The grand jury for the present term begs to submit the following report:

"Bills of Indictment—Eight bills of indictment were submitted to us, mostly of minor offenses, and true bills returned in all of them.

"Magistrates—The grand jury finds that the books and accounts of magistrates are regularly and systematically audited and inspected by the county Auditor, it being his custom to examine their dockets and see that all collections are properly accounted for as required by law. We have accepted the testimony of the County Auditor as to the correctness of these books.

"Elections—The grand jury has looked into the matter of certain irregularities in regard to registration and voting in the election held in this county on the 3rd of June, last. We find, as a matter of fact, that a number of citizens registered and some of them voted who had not paid their taxes prior to the 1st of May, and in many cases not at all. We are satisfied, however, that this action was without intent and wrong-doing, the voters acting in probable ignorance of the law and not purposing to commit any offense. At the same time, illegal registration and voting, even where technically wrong only, is a serious matter, and the mere act of registration is frequently operative to defeat the will of those who are possessed of the right to cast a ballot. We recommend that before any election is held in the future full notice be given through the papers and otherwise of the law governing registration and voting, and the penalty involved by violation of it.

"County Roads—A limited observation of the roads through the county built and being builded emphasizes the fact that wherever there has been improvement in the roads, co-equal improvements in residences, barns, and farms, have followed. It is gratifying to note the remarkable progress that has been made in our county in this direction, attributable we believe, almost entirely to good roads.

"Inspection of Buildings—As noted in following paragraphs, the grand jury has made an inspection of the Court House, jail, county home, work house and convict camps of the county. It is the opinion of the grand jury that however useful inspections of this kind may be, they cannot compare with visits, not expected, made in the interim of sessions of the court, by members of the grand jury, or proper persons designated for that purpose. We recommend to your honor, if within your power and discretion, that such inspection and investigation be so made, by members of this grand jury appointed by you, or such persons not of the grand jury whom you may see fit to select.

"The Court House—The grand jury finds this building in reasonably good repair. We call attention to the room in the basement in which books and papers, many of them no doubt valuable, seem to be piled without order or method. This room should be provided with steel shelves and filing cabinets, and such records as are valuable indexed and filed, and those that are valueless thrown out.

"The room occupied by the Associated Charities should be furnished with a suitable lavatory—particularly as we understand that this room is used for clinics for little children.

"The women's waiting room on the second floor should be provided with more comfortable accommodations.

"The conveniences in the general toilet rooms should be modernized.

"The Jail.—The grand jury regrets to report that it did not find the cleanliness of the jail at all satisfactory. Bad odors were evident, there was an absence of neatness, and the bedding of prisoners needed laundrying or destruction. A daily inspection by the proper officer and enforced compliance with sanitary regulations would doubtless remedy these conditions. We recommend that the prisoners now confined in the jail be removed, if it can be lawfully done, temporarily at least, to the county work house, and the jail given a complete overhauling, including plentiful whitewashing. And that the bedding be laundered with frequency and destroyed when it becomes offensive.

"A careful inspection and examination of the building brings conviction to the grand jury that in its size and equipment it is obsolete, inadequate, and unsuited for the purposes for which required. The cell rooms are not sufficiently ventilated—possibly are not capable of proper ventilation. In our judgment, they are not fit places in which to confine human beings, most of whom are only charged with and not convicted of offenses. Detained for trial, they are really being punished as much as if undergoing sentence after conviction, being deprived of proper light, air, and opportunity for exercise.

"We attach no blame to officials for this condition, but, in the opinion of the grand jury, the county of New Hanover should have, at the earliest possible period, a larger building, thoroughly modern in construction and equipment, and so planned that detention for trial will not involve punishment prior to conviction.

"We doubt if it would be possible to modernize the present building, securing needed sanitation, light and air, at a commensurate cost. It is too small, and, in fact, we are advised that it is difficult to protect the decencies of life when there is a large number of prisoners.

"We are gratified to know that steps are in contemplation by the County Commissioners looking to a remedy of these conditions, and will be made effective when legislative authority is secured. But, while time is an element in the financing and construction of a public building, we feel that it would be possible now to give the inmates of the present jail access to fresh air and sunshine, and opportunity for exercise.

"At the time of our visit, there was confined in the woman's section, a negro lunatic, whose mental condition necessitated physical restraint to prevent injury to himself and to fixtures. The jail is not provided with the equipment to handle insane persons, and this man, we were told, was suffering in bodily health. In the same section, and without proper privacy, a white woman was confined. This, we condemn, as being without excuse.

"The County Home—We take pleasure in stating that we found conditions at the County Home most desirable. The cleanliness and good order existing was quite apparent, the inmates seemed contented, and we desire to express our gratification over the state of affairs found there, and to compliment the superintendent and his wife.

"The Work House—We found this institution in a cleanly, well kept condition. The building is so constructed as to afford a maximum of ventilation, arrangements for the safety and health of the convicts very complete, and those to whom we spoke stated that the food was good and sufficient. We think it would be well to make better provision for the teams, by supplying them with bedding, the sand, when wet ,being injurious. In fact, the construction of new stables should be a matter claiming and receiving early attention.

"The superintendent appears to be a man of judgment, with intelligent ideas as to the treatment of prisoners committed to his care.

"The Recorder's Room—This room appears to be too small for the purpose for which used and does not accommodate the crowd frequently in attendance. We think a larger and more suitable court room should be provided for the Recorder. The frequency of Superior Court sessions interferes very frequently with the use of the large court room, and compels the holding of the Recorder's court in the small and ill ventilated room now set aside for him, inconveniencing the proceedings and detracting from the dignity of the court.

"The Convict Camp—The grand jury made a visit to and inspection of the convict camp and found conditions to be cleanly, the prisoners appeared to be receiving propar treatment and we found nothing deserving of criticism. We would suggest, however, that the awnings to the cage be more securely fastened, nails which are now being used not being sufficient for the purpose.

"We would also suggest that more shelter be provided for the teams, the present facilities for that purpose being inadequate.

"Public Comfort Stations—There is great need in our city for public comfort stations and we believe these should be furnished at the very earliest date, both for the convenience of visitors and for our own people. We do not deem it necessary to offer any argument in the matter as the necessity is a self-evident one.

"Thanks—The grand jury desires to express to your Honor its appreciation of the clear and instructive charge delivered to them, which has enabled them to discharge their duties with a clearer conception of their responsibility and with more promptness. We are also indebted to the solicitor for advice and courtesies."

TWO WHALES SEEN OFF OLD FORT FISHER BY FISHERMEN.

At First They Were Taken for Two Capsized Boats.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, N. C., June 29.—The fishing fleet of the Southport Fish Scrap & Oil Company sent some of its boats to the eastward yesterday, that is, above the Frying Pan Shoals, to look for menhaden. When off old Fort Fieser, the men on lookout reported what appeared to be two boats floating bottom upward.

Turning towards these supposed derelicts, the crews were astonished to see them become alive and active, turn over and swim away, in fact, prove to be whales about 100 feet in length.

On one of the fish boats was a party of sight-seers who are stopping at Miss Kate's, and they were given a close view of one of the whales, so close that a shot was fired at the big fish, which spouted a stream of water and disappeared in the sea.

The Cape Fear pilots here have sold their auxiliary power pilot boat, the St. Charles, to Mr. F. A. Doane, Jr., of Beaufort, N. C., and this morning the St. Charles sailed for its new home.

—The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. George Lynch will be interested in learning that he has resigned his position with the A. C. L. Railway Company to accept a position as mechanical engineer for the Mine Railway Appliance Company, of Toledo, Ohio; Mrs. Lynch will spend the remainder of the summer here and join Mr. Lynch in Toledo about September 1.

SEMINOLE LEAVES SUNDAY

For Morehead City to Take Part in Fourth of July Festivities.

Capt. P. H. Uberroth, of the Coatst Guard Cutter Seminole, yesterday received orders from Washington to proceed to Morehead City for the elaborate celebration of the Fourth of July that will take place there next week, as previously noted in the dispatches to The Star. Capt. Uberroth stated yesterday that the cutter would sail Sunday afternoon, arriving off Morehead about 9 o'clock Monday morning, the third. The day will be spent by Capt. Uberroth and staff in ascertaining what will be expected of the cutter upon the occasion and in preparing to join heartily in any programme that will be arranged. Among other things it is expected that Capt. Uberroth and his men will take part in a giant parade and maneuvers that will take place there in connection with the large number of National Guard men now mobilized there.

MISS JULIA HAYES BRIDE OF MR. ROBERT F. COLEMAN

A pretty home wedding was celebrated Tuesday night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Hayes, No. 122 South Eighth street, when Miss Julia Hayes became the bride of Mr. Robert Feaster Coleman, the ceremony being performed by Rev. W. Marshall Craig. Only a few intimate friends and relatives were present. Immediately after the wedding a short reception was held.

The bride is a popular and accomplished young woman with a host of friends in Wilmington and elsewhere, being held in the highest esteem by all who know her. Mr. Coleman, who is connected with the Tidewater Power Company, is a young man of the strongest intergrity and fine bility in his chosen work and enjoys the confidence and high regard of a wide circle of friends.

Many pretty gifts attested the popularity of the young people. They will make their home at No. 122 South Eighth street.

NATIONAL AID SOCIETY HOLDS ITS FIRST MEETING

At an enthusiastic and well-attended meeting of the Wilmington Chapter of the National Special Aid Society held Wednesday morning in the Colonial Dames' rooms, plans were discussed for helping in a definite way in case this country should be involved in a war with Mexico. This was the first regular meeting of the organization and was attended by fifty members of the society.

The meeting was largely devoted to discussing with trained nurses, who are members of the society as well as others, the best methods of making certain kinds of surgical supplies, and the choice of the most economical and serviceable materials. A quantity of gauze bandages were made, bits were prepared for surgical pillows, dressings for wounds, lawn squares for emergency handkerchiefs, and the three-corned First Aid bandages, which can be used for a great variety of injuries.

The nurses who attended the meeting came well supplied with all sorts of field emergency articles and made a most interesting demonstration of the use of supports in First Aid fracture work. For this purpose, they pointed out ,the triangular bandage is of first importance.

The first step towards classifying the enrollment of the society by a card index system. When this work is completed it will be possible for the Department of Agriculture, the Cutting Department, the Knitting Department, the Die Cooking Department, the Surgical Dressing Department and the First Aid to the Injured Classes, to meet as separate units of the chapter.

The membership of the chapter has been increasing rapidly during the past few days, and it is stated that additional members will be welcomed as their services can be used to good advantage. The chapter is deeply appreciative of gifts of bolts of cloth which have been made, and announces that it can also use old tablecloths and sheets as well. Bolts of homespun for surgical shirts are also needed. All enquiries should be addressed to the chairman of the Wilmnitgon Chapter.

Between 400 and 500 children participated in the grand march at Lumina last night following the dance, which was given in their honor from 8:15 to 9:15. Pretty toys, which had been arranged by Mrs. Cuthbert Martin, were given as souvenirs. There was a large crowd of adults present besides the children and they enjoyed the children's dance quite as much as did those who took part. Music was furnished by Don Richardson's orchestra.

The moving pictures now being shown at Lumina have attracted very favorable comments from the large crowds who gather at this popular pavilion each night to enjoy the various features provided by the management. Mr. W. W. Wood, who has charge of the moving pictures, is looking after the presentation of the screen pictures in his usual capable and clever manner and with a better grade of films is able to give the very best service possible.

Among the arrivals at the Seashore Hotel yesterday were: Frank Gough, Lumberton; Murray Allen, Raleigh; William Dunn, Jr., and C. E. York, of New Bern; Mr. and Mrs. Irving B. Tucker and child, Whiteville; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Harriss and S. Robinson, of Hamlet; Bayard Clark, Elizabethtown; Robert W. Davis, Southport; Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Kronenberg, Charlotte; B. H. Crumpler, Clinton; W. B. Guthrie, Durham; T. J. Foot, Wilson; J. Bailey Gordon, Rome, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Wright, Greensboro.

The triple Red Cross unit of Preparedness formed on Wrightsville Beach Wednesday desires to return thanks to the following genuine patriotic Red Cross members for their timely donations: Mr. A. D. Brown, bolt of gauze; Mr. C. W. Polvogt, bolt of unbleached homespun; Mr. L. Bluethenthal, bolt of gauze; Mr. J. M. Solky, bolt of gauze. All hospital supplies made according to National Red Cross specifications and directly under the supervision of Red Cross nurses, Misses Munds and Kelly.

Among yesterday's arrivals at the Oceanic Hotel were the following: R. W. Levan, Wallace; Dr. A. B. Holmes, of Council's; E. L. Norton, Baltimore; L. V. Grady, of Whiteville; John H. Bradshaw, of Raleigh; R. C. Wellborn, of Greensboro; E. B. Keene, of Norfolk, Va.; D. H. Wilcox, of Durham; F. H. Webber, of Atlanta; H. L. Stevens, of Warsaw; J. B. Wyche, of Hallsboro; Mr. and Mrs. George D. Webber, of Raleigh; Mrs. W. R. Tyner, of Loewe; H. B. Parker, Jr., of Goldsboro; Mrs. J. Lee, of Danville; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cavenaugh and Mrs. J. S. Cavenaugh, of Wallace; Miss Louise Thompson, of Jacksonville.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following deeds were filed for record yesterday: Wilmington Beach Corporation to S. H. Fulford, for $1 and other considerations, lot at Wilmington Beach; Andrew Moore and wife to John W. Boon and wife, for $10 and other considerations, lot in Cape Fear township; Andrew J. Moore and wife to Nathanial Leonard, for $10 and other considerations, tract containing two acres in Cape Fear township.

To Keep Skin in Fine Condition All Summer

It would be much better for the skin if little cream, powder or rouge were used during the heated term. Mixed with perspiration, dust and grime, these things are anything but beautifying. Ordinary mercolized wax will do more for the complexion, and without giving an oily, streaked, spotted or pasty appearance. It is the ideal application for the season, as it not only keeps the pores clean, but daily removes particles of scarf skin which have been soiled by dirt or weather. By constantly keeping the complexion clear, white, satiny, it does more toward perpetuating a youthful countenance than any of the arts or artifices commonly employed. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, will completely renovate the worst complexion. It is applied at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

To keep the skin from sagging or wrinkling, or to overcome such condition, there's nothing better than a face bath made by dissolving 1 ounce powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel.

A Clear Skin is only a part of beauty; but it is a part. Every lady may have it, and easily, too. Just apply Hagan's MAGNOLIA BALM (Liquid Powder) It freshens and beautifies at once. Heals Sunburn and overcomes Tan. 75 cents at Druggists or by mail. Sample Free. Lyon Manufact'ng Co., 42 South Fifth Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

GIFTED ARTIST WILL SING

At Chautauqua Concert at Baptist Seaside Assembly Tomorrow Night at Beach Auditorium.

Leonomie Dumais, who will appear on the programme of the Chautauqua concert of the Baptist Seaside Assembly at the auditorium at Wrightsville Beach tomorrow night, is said to possess a mezzo-soprano voice of wide range and great sweetness, and a stage presence at once attractive and pleasing. She has studied under the greatest masters of the present time, both in America and in Europe, Herzog and Lili Lehmann. To study under these masters is a privilege accorded only to those students of unusual promise.

The work done by Leonomie Dumais in opera and concert ranks her among the most accomplished artists. She has sung in opera in Bremen, Berlin and Beyreuth. She has appeared in concerts throughout a large portion of Germany and Poland, as well as in America. She has also filled a short season at the New York Metropolitan Opera House.

Leonomie Dumais was heard at the recent Raleigh Music Festival, singing in the roles of Liebel and Martha in Gounod's opera, Faust.

The concert to be given at the auditorium on Harbor Island at Wrightsville Beach tomorrow night beginning at 8:30 o'clock will be one of the leading musical events of the season in Wilmington and vicinity and it is expected that there will be an immense audience present. Miss Cannie Chesten, of this city, who has directed many similar events, will be the director. The following programme will be rendered:

LEONOMIE DUMAIS

"He, Watching Over Israel," "Elijah," (Mendelssohn), Wilmington Choral Society, Mr. Edward H. Munson, conductor.

"Winter Song," (Bullard), Apollo Club.

"Sunset," (Dudley Buck) Miss Katherine Campbell Johnson.

"Gondolieri," (Nevin) Miss Lucile Riley, Mrs. J. D. Edwards, Miss Agnes Chasten.

"Der Lenz," Hildach).

"The Key of the Heart," (Elman).

"Baby," (Malinson). Leonomie Dumais.

"Wynken, Blynken, and Nod," (Nevin), Cecelia Choir.

"The Bandolero," (Stuart), Dr. Hubert McN. Poteat.

"Shepherd's Dance," Henry the VII, (German), (violin solo), Mrs. Meares Harriss.

"Awake, Pretty Dreamer," (Gericke); "The Linden Tree," (Forschner); "Topical Song," Hawley), Appollo Club.

"L'anneau O'Argent," (Chaminade); "Aria From Thais," Massenet), Leonomie Dumais.

"The Heavens Are Telling," "The Creation," (Haydn), Wilmington Choral Society, Mr. Edward H. Munson, conductor.

HAD NICE ASSORTMENT OF WHISKEY IN HIS TRUNK

Dave Fredericks Showed His Collection to Officers, Who Arrest Him.

When Officers D. W. Coleman and W. H. Kermon called at the home of Dave Fredericks at No. 809 Harnett street, yesterday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock, they told him that they had received an intimation from a source not named by them that he had a fine collection of whiskey. They told him further that they had come armed with a search and seizure warrant and bade him show them over the house. Fredericks straightway opened up a trunk, the officers say, and after removing therefrom a lot of clothing, finally got down towards the bottom and from the confines of this receptable took out 61 half pints and eight quarts of a fairly good grade of whiskey, which the officers took charge of.

The officers then informed Fredericks that the laws of the State prohibited him from having so much whiskey at one time and that they would have to place him under arrest for violation of the prohibition law. Fredericks will have to explain about it today to the Recorder. It is understood that the negro got the whiskey in Norfolk, Va., as a result of having gone to the Virginia city on an excursion this week.

From all reports the excursion was made the occasion by more than one Wilmingtonian for bringing in a liberal supply of the "wet goods" from Norfolk. Early yesterday morning Chief of Police Williams received a telephone message from an officer at Burgaw, stating that an automobile had just been hired there by six or seven young white men from Wilmington, and that they were then en route to this city by auto, which was loaded to the gunwales with all sorts of drinkables. Chief Williams immediately set out to anticipate their arrival here with the load of booze, but before the car showed up in Wilmington another telephone message came from the officials at Burgaw stating that the young men had been overhauled in the car before they got out of Pender county, and had been taken back to Burgaw for trial. It was stated that they would be given a special hearing in Burgaw last night, but it was impossible to reach Burgaw by telephone after the trial, so the outcome of the case was not learned.

BAPTIST WOMEN'S LEADER

Mrs. W. N. Jones, of Raleigh, President of the Baptist Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina, was one of the speakers for the Women's Conferences of the Baptist Seaside Assembly at Wrightsville Beach this week.

oner of the Lord"; at 9:50 o'clock Miss Pickart will speak on "The Child and the Scriptures," and at the same hour in another part of the Auditorium Prof. L. P. Leavell will make an address on "Training the Workers"; at 10:40 o'clock, Rev. C. W. Blanchard will speak on the subject of "Pastors' Responsibilities in Their Associations", and at 10:40 o'clock, Miss Florence Whitney will speak on "An Episode of the Training School." At the same hour in a different part of the Auditorium, Mrs. Alexander Miller will make an address on "A Mission Study Demonstration."

Dr. Wharton's Lecture.

Dr. Wharton's lecture captivated his audience. It was not so much a lecture as an entertainment. Personally he is one of the most engaging of men, and his manner of speaking was as genial as sunshine. With remarkable fidelity he pictured to his audience in a humorous and sympathetic vein the vices and virtues, merits and weaknesses of men, women and children. And all three of these classes of folks in the audience, recognizing themselves in the pictures painted by the gifted lecturer, laughed and shouted at his punches and jabs at human foibles.

At the close of his address he advised his audience that if they are to make the best of their lives, they will take "The Ups and Downs of Life" as they come. "Don't cross any bridges until you get somewhere in the neighborhood, at least. Have a purpose in life and stick to it. Learn to control yourself and work at your purpose."

Morning Session.

One of the main features of the morning session was a Biblical Chautauqua address by Dr. W. J. McGlothlin, of Louisville, who took as his theme, "Some of the Religious Aspects of the War."

Dr. McGlothlin, in his address, dwelt mainly on the possibility of the change of the religion of some of the European countries at the close of the present great war. He prophesied several. He also spoke of how the outcome might in some way affect some of the religions in this country.

Prof. L. P. Leavell again delivered an address to the Assembly, using as his subject, "Departmental Superintendents." The subject was altogether of Sunday school work and teaching. He strongly urged the division of the Sunday school into departments, showing how no school could be great or successful unless it was organized in this manner. He urged a departure from the old conservatism in this work and favored the dynamic power of a new idea.

Rev. W. N. Johnson addressed on the subject of "Financing the Kingdom." and Mrs. B. A.Hocutt address on the subject of "For Ye Serve the Lord." Miss Pearl Howard gave a Mission lecture and Mrs. J. R. Williams lectured or "Personal Service." Prof. H. McN. Poteat conducted the musical part of the programme.

Dr. McGlothlin opened the morning session with an address on "Paul, the Missionary Statesman." It was the third of the lectures on the Apostle Paul by Dr. McGlothlin and it again greatly interested the audience.

Musical Programme.

It was conceded that last night's musical programme was the best that has been rendered at the Assembly up to this time. This was particularly true in the case of the Acme Quartette, which with its four splendid male voices, is one of the big features on each day's programme. The closing comedy number by the Quartetta, "Mary's Little Lamb," provoked much laughter and applause. The members of this quartette are Messrs. W. R. and A. L. Dosher, W. A. McGirt and W. B. Muse, of Wilmington.

Miss Katherine Johnson rendered a most delightful programme of Scotch songs. Among them were "Annie Laurie," "Coming Through the Rye," and then that fine old Southern song, "My Old Kentucky Home."

Plans for Next Year.

Hon. John A. Oates, of Fayetteville, made a brief report of a session of the executive committee held yesterday morning at the Oceanic Hotel, at which plans were discussed for making next year's Assembly one of the biggest ever held. Mr. Oates humorously stated that Dr. Hurt had been made president-chairman-boss of a booster committee for next year's Assembly. "There will be some changes in the programme," he said, "but so far as the young lady who sang the old Scotch songs for us tonight is concerned, there will be no change, if I have anything to do with it."

THAT GODWIN MEETING

Lumberton Correspondent Points Out Admitted "Inaccuracies" in Report.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., June 29.—Your correspondent acknowledges that there were a few inaccuracies in his report of that Godwin meeting, as charged by "Voter," in this morning's Star. We stated that there was a large crowd, Capt. J. P .Russell says he counted the crowd in the court room about 9:30 to the best of his ability and found 110, including speakers and all. Mr. K. M. Barnes told your correspondent that Mayor White conceded that 25 per cent. of the crowd were Brown people.

We stated that there were three rural carriers present from Red Springs. We are told that positively there were four present. We referred to two postmasters being present. We have been told today by Mr. W. K. Bethune that the Buie postmaster, one of those present, was a Republican. We have shown four errors we made and they should console "Voter," whoever he or she is.

Mr. R. A. (Gus) McLean, strong supporter of Mr. Godwin, told your correspondent this morning that the remarks of Mr. Bethune in the Brown meeting last night were published in The Star, word for word, and no one that we heard speak of the matter stated it otherwise. The Robesonian, however, gives it differently this afternoon. It has been charged that Mr. Brown had lawyers managing his campaign in this county, but nothing is said about Mr. Godwin having lawyer managers in five of the seven counties in the district. W. S. W.

TOBACCO MEN IN SESSION

President Carrington Delivers Annual Address at Asheville.

Asheville, N. C., June 29.—The International Tobacco Association of the United States, with 120 delegates present, convened at Grove Park Inn this morning, with President T. M. Carrington in the chair. In his annual address President Carrington referred to "the increasing usefulness of the Southern Railway to the South since its emancipation from Wall Street influences," and commended the Federal Reserve banks as guarantees against future money panics. Samuel L. Rogers, director of the Census, read a paper on "Tobacco Statistics," and explained the possibilities for a wider market for American tobacco.

If Too Fat Get More Fresh Air

BE MODERATE IN YOUR DIET AND REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT. TAKE OIL OF KOREIN.

Lack of fresh air it is said weakens the oxygen carrying power of the blood, the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs are hindered thereby. The heart action becomes weak, work is an effort and the beauty of the figure is destroyed.

Fat put on by indoor life is unhealthy and if nature is not assisted in throwing it off, a serious case of obesity may result.

When you feel that you are getting too stout, take the matter in hand at once. Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat.

Spend as much time as you possibly can in the open air; breathe deeply, and get from Elvington's Pharmacy or any druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself every few days and keep up the treatment until you are down to normal. Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps the digestion and even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight.

CAMP GLENN THE SCENE OF 'BEEHIVE' ACTIVITY

New Bern Merchants and Wholesalers on the Job.

Forty or Fifty New Buildings Being Hurriedly Constructed; New Fresh Water Pipe Line is Being Laid.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New Bern, N. C., June 29.—Camp Glenn is a busy place. Every man who can drive a nail or saw a board is working hard erecting buildings for the soldiers. About 40 or 50 new buildings, stables and other necessary equipment are being constructed rapidly. A pipe line is being run to Morehead City in order to supply the camp with fresh mater, the system constructed at the camp some years ago being inadequate to supply fresh water. It seems that the camp's present water system is all right for a small crowd, but when worked hard the pumps bring forth salt water, and the soldiers do not care for salt water except when it is in the sound or ocean.

The New Bern merchants and wholesalers are strictly on the job at Camp Glenn. In fact there are a few there who seem to have "enlisted" for the time being at least. Talking about camping, but these New Bern men are camping on the campers' trail. It is said that one well known business house has gotten about $10,000 worth of business out of the present mobilization and others are doing well also.

At the camp yesterday were representatives of hardware dealers, mill supply dealers, tinners, wholesale grocers, cracker salesmen, meat distributors, and a number of other lines. One of New Bern's tinning establishments got an order for tin for some of the new buildings' roofs, while others sold pipe, garbage cans, hay, etc. A New Bern bakery is furnishing bread, cakes and pies for the soldiers and last night sent down 3,000 loaves of bread.

Will be Many Horses.

It is understood that there will be several hundred horses in the camp when all the cavalry arrives. The freight yesterday afternoon brought in several cars, and there were already about 75 or 100 in camp. The companies are equipped with large, modern wagons for hauling, and all of the teams were busy yesterday.

It is understood that the wholesale grocers and provision merchants are not getting heavy orders yet, owing to the fact the soldiers went into camp with ten days provisions with them, and five more days' provisions contracted for, and on top of that the government ordered them not to contract for any further ahead for those supplies, as it is expected they may be en route to the border by that time.

Railroad Men Busy.

The Norfolk Southern officials are doing everything possible to handle the crowds. Starting yesterday the camp train service was inaugurated. Col. H. S. Leard, general passenger agent of the road, was at the camp yesterday and he is doing everything possible to see that the Norfolk Southern's passenger service is kept up to its usual standard of efficiency.

The government has leased from Col. James A. Bryan, of this city, a large tract of land lying on Bogue Sound, adjoining the camp grounds. With the entire guard mobilizing at one time more ground was needed and the arrangements were made with Mr. Bryan for the use of his land.

Work on Harbor of Refuge.

The work on the harbor of refuge at Cape Lookout is progressing rapidly, and the contractors, D. L. Taylor & Co., of Baltimore, are keeping up with the requirements of their contract and it is understood that the company has been able to make arrangements with two more quarries from which to obtain the rock used in this work, and with favorable weather the work will proceed even more rapidly than the government requires.

On account of litigation over the land which the government desired in connection with this work the breakwater was started about 1,500 feet from shore. About 2,700 feet of the breakwater is now showing over the surface of the ocean. When completed the breakwater will be 7,000 feet long.

The contractors have four large barges which they use in transporting the rock from Morehead City to Cape Lookout. Two of the barges are "dump barges" and the other two are large derrick barges." The derrick barges will each carry 30 carloads (a whole trainload) of rock on one trip. The large pieces of rock, some of which weigh as much as 20 tons, are easily lifted out of the barges by the derricks and placed in the position desired. The dump barges carry the smaller rock, and the bottoms of these are opened when at desired points and the entire contents dumped into the ocean.

Large Derricks for Unloading.

The pier No. 1 in Morehead City the United construction company has large derricks which are used in taking the which from the cars and placing same with the barges. Twenty or 30 cars, unloaded under favorable circumstances, can be unloaded in five or six hours. The crushed stone is loaded in large buckets and these buckets are hoisted right out of the car and placed on the barges.

LOST WIFE IN THE SHUFFLE

Now She is Dead, Having Not Seen Husband Since War Began.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., June 29.—Israel Nachamson, more than 80 years old, an intelligent old man from Baltimore, made a trip to spend the summer with a side, cannot become reconciled to the loss of his wife, about his age, as a result of the war in Asia. Mr. Nachamson, an American citizen, was visiting in Turkish territory in Asia when the Turks declared war. He became separated from his wife in a panic of refugees. He was carried to Alexandria on an American man-of-war, but his wife failed to reach there. She died recently, although relatives in this country are said to have made numerous attempts to have her brought back. Money was forwarded to her at Joppa until her demise, but Mrs. Nachamson fell ill after constant brooding over her predicament in spite of the comforts that she was able to secure.

A quiet Fourth at Carolina Beach. Steamer Wilmington leaves at 9:00 and 2:30.

THE SMILE'S THE THING.

Certainly Does Help Smooth Out Rough Places of Life.

(From Telephone News.)

A smile is the bright green carpet of grass that covers the brown earth—the first sign that winter is over.

A smile is the rippling softly tinted bloom that covers the erstwhile bare, black limbs of the fruit trees.

A smile is the light, feathery sheen of green that bursts from the brown buds of bush, plant and tree with the first warm rays of the springtime sun.

Like it? Well, here are some more.

A smile is the song of a meadow lark to its mate as together they build their nest.

A smile is the bright, warm sunlight after the gentle pattering shower; it changes the very face of nature, transporting the gloom into the joyousness of a wonderful day.

So nature smiles while heavy hearts grow light, and life is new again.

If nature's smile has such a potency, what may we not expect from a smiling human countenance or the human "voice with the smile?"

There's a "Miss Benevolence" at the head of the "Complaint Bureau" of a large institution, so vouchsafes a contemporary who is all but stone deaf! Important points of the bitter and often unreasonable arguments of red-faced, explosive complainants are handed to her on memoranda by a clerk who stands in back and listens. But "Miss Benevolence," all unaware of the stormy words hurled at her, smiles and smiles and smiles and smiles. And then smiles some more, with never a smirk, 'til the storm of unreason—and, you know, it's apt as not to be unreason—is over.

And the storm always does pass by, for she never loses that genial composure, but smiles and returns smileful, soft-spoken words for wrathful and bitter invective.

Don't think that a mouth with upturned corners denotes weakness or that there's such a thing as being too proud to grin; for you can fight the good fight better when you smile. There was a time when grim-visaged, deep-chested men once roamed the earth, whose mighty roar set whole cities trembling in their path. But, bless your heart! they have gone the way of all bugbears of the past! The "stuffed club" of benevolence and good humor does most of the winning these days.

The True Gentlemowan.

All the things which the term "lady" has come to mean are neither worthy nor lovable. But no unfortunate connotation has so far risen to destroy the primal meaning of the word "gentlewoman."

The external signs of the gentlewoman are good manners, poise of bearing and charm of voice. The chief internal qualities from which the good manners should rise are unselfishness, tolerance and consideration for others, which is only another name for unselfishness. Chance has decreed that some girls are so circumstanced that it is easy for them to be gentlewomen; for others great difficulties stand in the way. But no girl need fear of reaching such an ideal if she cares to exercise the patience and self-suppression necessary to attain the inner and outer graces which belong to the true gentlewoman.

So far as the inner graces are concerned, no one is born with the quality of unselfishness, although some fortunate people have such a bent for it that it can be early disciplined into them. The baby is born an egoist, and everyone around him must, perforce, minister to his egoism. His little horizon is filled with just himself, and when he begins to talk the most of his speeches begin "baby wants" or "baby doesn't want." It is only careful-training that will give the child the proper conception of the rights of others. Human nature is, at the best, so defective that only constant self-discipline will keep one from putting one's own rights always first.

The true gentlewoman knows that the Christian theories which look upon unselfishness as a duty are something more than pleasant principles set up on some high shelf of the soul where they are kept for show only. The gold of the rule, "Do unto others as you would that they should do to you" ought to be kept burnished by constant use. The gentlewoman does not say.

"Why should I do this kindness for her? She would not do it for me!"

Nor does she say,

"If you consider other people before yourself, they'll let you do it, and will impose on you."

The true gentlewoman knows that hard people can often be won and changed by unselfish treatment. She also knows that the sense of justice is sufficiently alive in the world so that an unselfish person's friends will not permit selfish people to impose too much upon her. Above all, she realizes that her duty is not to consider the possible failure of her efforts in a pretty imperfect world, nor the reactions upon herself; she tries to be unselfish, not to get a return in kind for it, but because unselfishness is right.

The complement of unselfishness and good consideration for others is tolerance. When other people are grasping or unfair, the gentlewoman tries to excuse them, on the ground that they are doubtless doing the best they can. She is not smug about it, does not thank God that she is not as other people; she simply believes that people probably think they are justified in whatever line of conduct they take. This breadth of view, this generosity, is a grace quite as admirable as unselfishness; in its way it is a kind of unselfishness.

It does not follow that the outward qualities of personality correspond with the inner qualities, but they should. A charming manner will not atone for utter unselfishness, nor will an abrupt nervous manner, however unattractive, conceal a beautiful spirit. Yet, ideally, there should be a correspondence between inner and outer qualities—Maude Radford Warren in Woman's World for July.

FIND NEW VENOMOUS SNAKE

(Los Angeles Correspondence).

A poisonous snake that reptile experts and naturalists have so far been unable to classify and which may be of a new species came into the possession of Ed Hambly and Jack Horn. The snake was caught by a Mexican at one of the road camps near Los Angeles.

The snake has two fangs, each about one-eighth of an inch long. In an effort to determine whether or not the reptile is poisonous it was placed in an inclosure with a white rat. The rat was bitten and died in convulsions shortly after.

The snake is three feet and a half in length and olive green in color. Its color changes to a pale yellow when it is angered and light brown markings appear upon its back. Contrary to other venomous snakes it has the double set of scales that are found on harmless varieties. The scales are smooth and it has extraordinary long jawbones. Its eyes are the round pupiled eyes of the harmless snake, and it has only one set of nostrils. Its head is of the same shape as its harmless brothers. Its tail tapers to a fine point and the snake itself differs in shape from other poisonous reptiles in that it is slender rather than thick bodied.

It strikes without coiling and moves with great swiftness. While being examined it ejected a stream of colorless poison for a distance of 17 inches.

Dr. Charles L. Edwards, naturalist for the public schools, inclines to the belief that it may be related to the vipers. "Until this time I have never known of a smooth scaled snake which was poisonous," he said.

PROFITS OF TRAPPERS.

Reports recently received at the office of the provincial game warden indicate the earnings of trappers who spend a portion of each year in the wilds of British Columbia.

The fur products of the province aggregate approximately $500,000 each year, one recent consignment from the Peace river districts having been disposed of to an American buyer for $25,000. The lot included one black silver fox skin valued at $800.

One trapper sent in from Cariboo for the five months from November 1 until March 31 a list showing that he had trapped 103 beavers, 35 marten, 16 mink, 20 muskrats, 6 lynx, 45 weasels and 6 wolverines. Another had secured 37 beaver, 111 marten, 2 mink, 1 lynx, 43 weasels and 3 wolverines. Allowing as fair prices as $5 for beaver, $6 for marten, $4 for mink, 25 cents for muskrat, $10 for lynx, 50 cents for weasel and $15 for wolverine, the first mentioned trapper realized approximately $1,050 and the second $900 for the five months' work.

THEATRICAL

"One Day" is comnig to the Royal tomorrow. This in response to repeated phone calls that have been coming in ever since the first announcement of the early presentation of this, the most spectacular, daring and stirring film drama of the year, based on Elinor Glyn's world-famous book of the same name and a sequel to her justly celebrated "Three Weeks" which has been read by ten million people or more.

"One Day" in the films is undoubtedly one of the triumphs of the year in motion pictures. This gripping story of a burning, resistless secret love has been immortalized in the films with one of the greatest all-star casts of players ever assembled for aprticipation in a single motion picture drama that will thrill every nation of the civilized globe. Everywhere the crowds are going wild over the most absorbing, soul-stirring love drama ever produced, a six reel production, sparkling with clean continuous, sensational romance that fills you with great thoughts and never-ending thrills.

In the leading role of Opal comes Jeanne Iver, who brings into the play her winsome beauty, compelling personality and superb acting, giving to the story a finished state which will please everyone. Supporting her is Robert Broderick in the role of Dimitri; Victor Sutherland in the role of Paul Verdayne; Hal Clarendon as Prince Ronneaus, also William Betchel and John Webb Dillon.

"The Strange Case of Mary Page", the eighth great two-reel chapter of this great serial achievement, occupies top position on the screen at the Grand today, leading off a great five-reel bill all for five cents, representing one of the greatest examples of value giving you have had in a long time.

The eighth great chapter of this entrancing serial in which those two nation-wide favorites, Henry Walthall and Edna Mayo, are doing the very greatest work of their whole career, is as full of meat as a butcher shop, and will absolutely hold your individed attention from the first to the last flash. There are new and startling surprises in store for you in this chapter. Henry Walthall in the role of Philip Langdon, who is moving heaven and earth to clear the name of the girl he loves from the foul cloud of suspicion that has hovered over her since the moment of the tragedy which removed Dave Pollock so mysteriously, is at his very best in his argument in this great chapter. It is now getting to the point where something definite, something tangible is likely to turn up at any moment and no one should miss a single episode from now on.

A great three-reel feature drama—rest assured it features some big stars—will conclude today's great five-reel bill.

Who is "The Laughing Mask"?

And now who do you think is "The Laughing Mask"? Today the 14th great two-reel chapter of this most entrancing of all serials will be unfolded at the Bijou and it bids fair to shatter some of the dreams of those who have thus far made up their minds. But the big surprise will not come until the great 16th chapter—two weeks from today, when all guesses will be shattered. You can't imagine how this is possible, with your firm belief that you know the final outcome, can you? Nevertheless, you want to see the next three chapters anyway and watch the proceedings closely. You will find many surprises in store for you.

In the 14th great chapter today there are more thrills than were ever before carried into two reels of motion pictures. It is a corker from beginning to end and the best part about it is that it gets better, bigger and more startling every week—and another good thought, there are six more big chapters after today. And then we will be sorry to see it end, at that.

There are two of the biggest comedies of the year on today. A great Heinie and Louie scream, "Shooting at Random," occupies first place and this is followed by a great Lonesome Luke scream, "Hapless Happenings," with a scream in every line.

SOUTHERN FORESTRY CONGRESS.

North Carolina Pine Association to Take Part in Asheville Meeting.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., June 29.—Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt has issued the following statement:

"At the June meeting of the North Carolina Pine Association held in Norfolk last week it was decided to hold their July meeting in Asheville at the time of the Southern Forestry Congress, July 11-15. This is the fifth regular organization interested in forest perpetuation which is planning to attend the Congress in a body so that a large and representative delegation is assured.

"The North Carolina Pine Association is an association of lumbermen operating in the loblolly or North Carolina pine region of Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina, which region turns out an annual cut exceeding two billion board feet. The membership comprises some 75 to 100 of the largest firms in these three states. Many of the members have shown their interest in forestry not only by being present at meetings, but by subscribing liberally to forestry work, and even conducting forestry experiments themselves. Recently very decided steps have been taken by some of these firms securing co-operative fire protection for loblolly pine lands.

"The participation of such men in the deliberations of the Southern Forestry Congress will assure the public of the practical nature of the proceedings and will great! yassist the Congress in formulating helpful and definite recommendations for Southern forestry practice."

COTTON BUT LITTLE CHANGED

Market Very Quiet and Prices Ruled Steady After Opening Decline. Much Switching of Longs.

New York, June 29.—The cotton market was very quiet today and prices ruled generally steady after a slight opening decline. December rallied from 13.33 to 13.38 and closed at 13.37 with the general list closing barely steady at a net decline of 5 to 7 points on old crop months, but net unchanged to 2 points higher on the active new crop positions. A good part of the day's business consisted of switching long contracts from near to late deliveries.

The market opened steady at a decline of 2 to 8 points in response to relative easy cables and an early crop report indicating an improvement of 1.7 per cent in condition the past month. This report, however, placed the present condition at only 79.1 per cent compared with 80.2, the 10-year average, while it estimated the increase in acreage at 9 per cent, slightly under recent figures, and offerings were light.

Weather reports were considered favorable and acted as a check on the rally, but the buying was promoted by reports that boll weevil were becoming very numerous in many sections of the belt, and active new crop positions sold about 3 to 4 points net higher during the middle of the afternoon. July rallied to last night's closing figures, but after selling at 13.05 eased off to 12.98, closing at that level. October advanced from 13.15 at the opening to 13.23, and January from 13.38 to 13.45, with final quotations showing slight reactions under realizing.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, June 29. — Cotton goods were steady today, with moderate buying. Yarns were firm and wool goods advanced. Several rush orders were received for government supplies.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Small Decline Followed by Rise and Prices But Little Changed.

New Orleans, June 29.—A small decline in the early trading, followed later by a small rise, occurred in the cotton market today, but the net change was insignificant. The close was steady unchanged to 1 point higher than that of yesterday. Trading was professional, the public holding aloof because of the nearness of the bureau reports on condition and acreage.

Around the opening the market was rather soft because of poor cables and less rain. Active months fell 5 to 6 points under yesterday's close, where fresh buying was met and the market firmed up. Much was made of forecasts of extensive boll weevil damage in Texas by officials of that state. Prices gradually improved until they were 3 to 7 points over yesterday's last quotation, and in the afternoon the market turned dull.

Close: July 12.96; October 13.06; December 13.19; January 13.28; March 13.47.

Spot cotton steady and unchanged; sales on the spot 1,015 bales; to arrive 105 bales; middling 13.06.

WHEAT ADVANCES SHARPLY

Influenced Chiefly by a Sudden Rise in Quotations in Paris—Chicago Close Was Strong.

Chicago, June 29. — Wheat prices here rose sharply, today, chiefly influenced by a sudden big rise in quotations at Paris. The close in Chicago was strong, ⅝ to ⅞@1 net higher, with July at 1.01½@⅝ and September, 1.05. Corn finished ¼ to ⅜ up; oats varying ⅛@¼ off to ⅛ advance, and provisions with gains of ten to thirty-five.

STOCKS GO UP RAPIDLY

More Encouraging Mexican News Causes Recoveries from the Losses of Previous Sessions.

New York, June 29.—Stocks rebounded rapidly at today's opening on the more encouraging news from Mexico, indicating an enormous over-extension of the short account, rather than actual investment inquiry.

Initial recoveries embraced virtually all parts of the last, the Mexican group naturally showing greatest improvement. Petroleum opened with a block of 8,000 shares at 100 to 101, a maximum recovery of 10 points. Greene Cananea and American Smelting rose more than 3 points, and Southern Pacific, whose interests are largely bound up in the situation across the border, made a clear gain of 2 points.

There were "wide" or excited openings at extreme advances of 2 to 4 points in Reading, United States Steel, Marine, preferred, and some of the other important stocks. Motors rose 3 to 6 1-2, and munitions 2 to 3, with average advances of 2 points for coppers and affiliated shares.

By noon the covering movement appeared to have spent its force. Thereafter the market became increasingly dull and heavy, but conditions were suddenly reversed in the last half hour, when United States Steel again came forward with the Marines, the latter on reports that all obstacles toward the re-organization had been overcome. Stocks closed with a strong tone, except in United States Industrial Alcohol and other high priced specialties, where pressure was manifest.

The strength of Marine 4 1-2s featured the irregular bond market. Total sales, par value, $2,350,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

Washington, June 29.—The House Judiciary committee today favorably reported a bill establishing a regular term of the Circuit Court of Appeals at Asheville, N. C.

An appropriation of $70,000 for continuing work on the postoffice at Columbia, S. C., is included in the sundry civil bill, the conference report on which was adopted by the House today.

Kinston, N. C., June 29.—Nearly every druggist in the city today pledged himself to fill all prescriptions for dependents of soldiers at the cost of materials. Attending physicians will mark the prescriptions "military" to prevent impositions. There are more than a hundred persons here dependent upon men in the mobilization camp at Morehead City.

DENTAL SURGEONS FOR CAROLINA GUARDSMEN

Are to be Commissioned at Once by Governor Craig.

Two Companies of Engineering Troops to Be Organized—Young Joins Guard at Camp Glenn—Portrait Presented.

Raleigh, N. C., June 29.—The Second regiment of the North Carolina National Guard is now at Camp Glenn, near Morehead City, and has added 1,100 men to the more than 1,000 of the first regiment already there. It is expected that the physical examination of the First regiment will end Friday, and that of the second will be pressed.

The Third regiment companies are under orders to reach Camp Glenn by Saturday night and this will increase the force by fully 1,200 guardsmen. The First regiment expects to be ready to entrain for the border by Tuesday, though no orders as to the point to which it is to proceed have been made public. Governor Craig has notified the President that the North Carolina National Guard will answer the call for service in or out of the country as ordered.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 29.—Under authority from the War Department, Governor Craig is to appoint within the next few days dental surgeons for the North Carolina troops in service in the ratio of one such officer for every one thousand men in the service. The appointees must be between the ages of 21 and 35 years and must stand the War Department examination before receiving the commission. There are three acting dental surgeons and all three have applied. They are Dr. Burrell F. Hall and Dr. B. F. Durham, of Asheville; and Dr. S. R. Horton, Raleigh. These officers rank as first lieutenants.

The Governor is also authorized to have formed at once two companies of engineering troops of 65 men each and there are movements on foot in Charlotte, Raleigh and Wilmington for the formation of such companies.

There are also instructions from the War Department for the appointment of veterinary surgeons for the mounted troops. this State, however, to require only one such officer. There are a number of applications already on file

Brigadier General Laurence W. Young will go to Camp Glenn to take up his command tomorrow, leaving General B. S. Royster in charge as adjutant general here. General Young will be accompanied by A. L. Fletcher, lawyer and newspaper man, who goes as personal secretary to General Young and expects to accompany him in whatever border and Mexican campaigns he and the North Carolina troops may participate in.

Major W. A. Graham, Commissioner of Agriculture, delivered the principal address this morning for the ceremonies for the presentation of an oil portrait of Charles L. Hinton to the State. Major Hinton was State treasurer 1843-52, with the exception of one term, and served several terms in the Legislature from Wake county between 1821 and 1834.

DOCTORS OF STATE INVITED

To Attend Opening of Anson County Sanatorium on July 4.

Wadesboro, N. C., June 29.—The board of trustees of the Anson County Sanatorium have issued invitations to the doctors of the State to attend the opening of the new institution on Tuesday, July 4. The board of trustees is composed of Drs. R. D. Ross, L. C. Smith, J. E. Hart, J. M. Dunlap, E. S. Ashe and Messrs. R. L. Hardison and T. A. Marshall.

From 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. there will be operations in the operating room by the following: Dr C. M. Strong, Charlotte; Dr. J. Ernest Stokes, Salisbury; Dr. J. W. Long, Greensboro; Dr. Addison Breniser, Charlotte, N. C.; Dr. H. A. Royster, Raleigh; Dr. G. W. Pressly, Charlotte.

Between 3 and 4 p. m. lunch will be served at the Sanatorium At 8 p. m. there will be a general reception to the doctors and the public at the hospital. From 4 to 7 p. m. the following programme will be carried out:

Dr. J. P. Munroe, Charlotte, "The Medical Aspects of the Glands of Internal Secretions."

Dr. William Allan, Charlotte, "Hyperthroidism."

Dr. J. W. Long, Greensboro, "The Surgical Treatment of Goitre," (lantern slides.)

Discussion by the medical men and surgeons present.

BURGAW OFFICERS MAKE HAUL.

Five White Men and a Negro Arrested With Suitcases of Whiskey.

Burgaw, N. C., June 29.—Upon the arrival here this morning of the excursion train from Norfolk, several young men were observed to alight on the side opposite the station, and each was loaded with a suit case, all of which appeared to be quite heavy. This fact excited the suspicions of the chief of police and he intercepted them and took charge of the suit cases, which upon being opened were found to contain a quantity of whiskey put up in pint bottles. The young men were placed under arrest and lodged in jail to await a hearing.

One of them skipped out, but was later overhauled and lodged in jail with the others, there being five in all. The one that got away had gone for an automobile, and they were all going to Wilmington in the auto. When he discovered that the others had been nabbed he dismissed the machine and started afoot to Wilmington, but was overhauled near St. Helena and brought back.

About the same time a negro who runs a cold drink shop here was seen taking a suit case from the train to his shop and a search and seizure warrant was sworn out, his place searched and a suit case containing 20 pints of the ardent was found. He was lodged in jail in default of bond.

nomination a man for secretary who will be sure to make an efficient officer," said Hon. Clement Manly, of Winston-Salem, in nominating Secretary Davis for re-election.

President Skinner started to express his thanks to the members of the association for their help in administering the affairs of the association when Mr. Manly interrupted him by proposing a rising vote of thanks to the presiding officer. "It is a very proper thing to say that we have had a most successful meeting and I do now move that we thank the very high class gentleman, who has been our presiding officer, for the able manner in which he has performed the duties of his office." said Mr. Manly in putting the question which was adopted by a rising vote.

Judge D. L. Ward, of New Bern, moved a vote of thanks to Secretary Davis, who, he declared, had after all done most of the hard work of the convention. This was adopted unanimously.

Favor Compensation Act.

The Bar Association yesterday went on record by a good majority as favoring the Workmen's Compensation Act, proposed by the special committee of which Judge W. P. Bynum, of Greensboro, was chairman, and recommended it to the next General Assembly as a model upon which to draft a bill which will give the desired relief. R. C. Lawrence, of Lumberton, and other members of the association desired the bill referred back to the committee for consideration until the next annual meeting of the Bar Association because the amounts to be paid in the event of injury had not been named.

The act recommended by the committee is one which has been approved by the Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws and recommended for adoption in all the states. The proposed act is compulsory in its provisions, but may be made elective, if desired. It is intended to apply to public and all industrial employments, as well as to State and county employes. No compensation is allowed for injuries caused by the employe's wilful intention to injure himself or another or by his intoxication. The right to compensation under the act is exclusive of all other rights and remedies of the employe and denies the right to the employer to sue for damages, the amounts to be paid in the event of injuries or death, as the case may be, being fixed by State statute.

In moving that it be referred back to the committee for further consideration Mr. Lawrence pointed out that possibly not a dozen members of the association had read the proposed bill and referred to the fact that the ages of those entitled to be paid damages; the kind of injuries and the amounts to be paid for medical attendance, etc., had all been left blank. He thought it should be more thoroughly considered.

L. R. Varser, of Lumberton, declared that he did not think it right for people to have to pay that which they do not owe nor for employers to accept that which is inadequate. Right is right and nothing is ever settled until it is settled right. He was opposed to the proposed bill.

That the compensation acts emanate mostly from employers, particularly corporations, and from indemnity companies was the belief of J. W. Pless, of Marion, who vigorously opposed the adoption of the recommendation of the committee. He thought that the employes ought to have a say so about the proposed propositions also.

Not Corporation Measure.

"We have already gone on record as favoring the Workmen's Compensation act," declared Judge J. Crawford Biggs of Raleigh, who pointed out that the deficiencies referred to by the gentlemen who had spoken were mere details that could be easily fixed by the Legislature. The proposed act was only a recommendation, anyway, he explained, and the General Assembly could do with it whatever in its wisdom it considered best.

"I utterly repudiate the suggestion that the wokmen's compensation bills emanate from corporations and insurance companies," Judge Biggs continued. "I am here as a lawyer, speaking to lawyers and I represent neither the corporations nor employes.

"As a lawyer I would oppose the proposed law, but as a citizen I place my patriotism above my pocketbook and I, therefore, favor it," declared Herbert F. Seawell, of Carthage, who explained that the proposed bill would do away most effectually with contingent fees for attorneys.

"Both as a lawyer and as a citizen, I join Mr. Seawell in endorsing the proposed bill," said T. B. Finley, of North Wilkesboro.

Hon. John D. Bellamy, of Wilmington, explained that there were three compensation bills before the last Legislature but nothing was done with any of them because the legislators hardly knew which way to start. He heartily endorsed the principle and hoped that the association would accept the report of the committee. He felt sure that all would welcome it. The motion of Mr. Lawrence to refer back to the committee was defeated and the report of the committee was accepted by a large majority.

Memorials Are Read.

Judge W. M. Bond before beginning his address to the Bar Association yesterday morning paid a beautiful tribute to the late Judge R. B. Peebles, of Jackson, and the association unanimously voted that Judge Bond should incorporate his tribute in writing and have it published in the records of the convention.

Memorials were presented following the address for the following members of the Association, who died during the past year; Henry A. Gilliam, of Tarboro; William Westwood Jones, of Asheville; Robert Ney McNeely, of Monroe; Thomas J. Jarvis, of Greenville; LeRoy E. Smith, of Gatesville; Hamilton C. McMillan, of Red Springs; William Wainwright Barber, of Wilkesboro; Howard A. Foushee, of Durham; Thomas Braxton Bailey, of Mocksville; John A. Narron, of Smithfield.

Secretary Thos. W. Davis, of Wilmington, at the morning session moved an amendment to the by-laws of the association providing that all standing committees should have their reports prepared 60 days before the annual meeting of the association in order that they might be ready for thorough consideration by each member. Upon motion of Judge Biggs the change was made to apply only to the committee on Legislation and Law Reform, the most important committee of the association.

Hon. A. L. Brooks, chairman of a committee appointed at the last meeting of the association to present a report on the advisability of increasing the number of Supreme Court justices to seven, reported that in view of the contemplated increase of Superior Court judges and the fact that it would require an amendment to the constitution to increase the number of Supreme Court judges, the committee had decided not to press the matter at the present time.

Judge Bond's Address.

Judge Bond's address to the Bar Association yesterday morning was devoted to comments on some questions pertaining to our judicial system. "Many suggestions as to that system and assaults upon it are being paraded before us by the progressives of the day," he pointed out and continuing declared that "from the existence of governmnets whose dim outlines can now be traced only through powerful telescopes turned on the past until our government was established by the revolution, perhaps every form, except ours, had existed, had waned and had died.

In eloquent words he described the imperial dynasties with the assumed splendour of their mighty power, tinsel despotisms where cruelty and force had slaughtered the rights of thousands, absolute and limited monarchies which had buried the hopes of millions and all other forms of government had existed and in turn had ceased to exist. All showed that flowerets of liberty, said he, had bloomed only amid bloodshed and revolution. The battlefield, the cannon and the sword had won what had been gained.

"Writers upon governmental science, apparently with unanimity," declared Judge Bond," have agreed that no greater calamity can be visited upon a free and independent people than a weak, incapable and corrupt judiciary. The American bench has never been a place for tyranny on the one hand, nor for cowardice on the other.

"Plausible suggestions are now being made, that men occupying judicial position should be ineligible to non-judicial office, until a reasonable time after retirement from the bench. It is claimed to be in line with the idea of having the judiciary where nothing could sway it from absolute independence.

Attacks on Courts.

"So far as public quietude is concerned, a loss of confidence in the integrity and efficiency of the courts would be a serious menace, even if that lost confidence have in fact no real foundation upon which to rest.

"Apparently more forces are marching hand in hand today for the attainment of that end, the lessening of public confidence in the courts, than at any prior time.

"Within the limits of a short address we could not hope to give separate mention to all of these forces. Two of them quite prominent, and in some respects not dissimilar, are the doctrines of recall of judicial opinions and recall of judges.

"If the first mentioned, recall of decisions, is ever embraced the principles announced by our highest court will of necessity lose their fixedness, changing backward and forward, swayed by the clamor of temporary excitement, as the vane whirls at the command of an approaching wind.

"Without fixed basic principles no completed system of laws can be made. Laws cannot always do even and exact justice. They can only meet the general run of cases.

"A house built on the sand cannot stand. Holy writ tells us, a certain man built his house upon the sand, and the rains descended and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat upon that house, and it fell, and great was the fall thereof.

Recall of Judges.

"If the second, Recall of Judges, should become established in our law, with judicial office dependent upon popular vote, might it not threaten that independence, and firmness, which is necessary, to enable a judge to stand firm in controversies between the weak and friendless on the one hand, and the strong and powerful on the other, between those who can help him, and those who cannot.

"Most of them would stand square to every wind, as responsibility usually invites to duty, but would it not be better, that there be no incentive to anyone not to do so."

Judge Bond discussed both these important questions at considerable length, quoting from authorities to sustain his positions, and using many facts of compelling force to back up his arguments. His address was heard with the closest attention by the members of the association and made a profound impression.

COAST LINE INCREASES PAY OF TELEGRAPH OPERATORS

Telephone Men, Levermen and Powermen Get 9 Per cent. Additional.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 29.—Following recent conferences between officials and representatives of the order of railway telegraphers, the last of which was held in this city Tuesday, the Atlantic Coast Line today announced an increase in pay of 9 per cent. for all telephone and telegraph, levermen and powermen in the employ of the company. The conference of superintendents recently held in the office of General Superintendent W. H. Nowell was attended by district officials and trainmasters from over much of the system, while the one thousand employes were represented by General Chairman B. F. Wheeler, of Oviedo, Fla.; Mr. C. A. Broks, chairman of the Wilmington district; Charles Bolic, chairman of the Columbia district; J. K. McCotter, of the Richmond district; Mr. G. B. Parker, of the Norfolk district, and W. C. Mason, of the Fayetteville district.

The new order for an increase, which becomes effective on July 1, will effect about one thousand men in the service of the Atlantic Coast Line in their territory in more than a half dozen states.

GIVES GUARDSMEN TIP.

Cheney Says Let Alcohol Alone—Mexicans Treacherous, He Says.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., June 29.—City Engineer Alfred Cheney yesterday told National Guardsmen here that the average Mexican of the border country is a well-blended admixture of wolf, rattlesnake and dog. Cheney has had considerable experience in the region. In battle with Americans, if they pursue their customary tactics, a few of them "will get out in front and bark and the remainder will sneak up from the rear and bite you on the legs," said Mr. Cheney.

He advised the soldiers to let alcohol alone. "It won't do in tropical countries for a man from a temperate climate to bother with the stuff," he declared. Cheney once was with a surveying party in equatorial Africa, he said, and with him were twenty other white men besides natives. "They laughed at my temperance and other precautions, but I buried them all—to a man."

WOODMEN FORM HOME GUARD.

Organization at Rocky Mount, Ready for Service, Tenders Offer.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 29.—With the departure of the local military yesterday there was announced this morning the formation of a volunteer home guard company, already uniformed and drilled for service, with officers elected. Drilled in woodcraft, the local degree team of the Tar River Camp of the Woodmen of the World, under the command of Capt. T. C. Burgess, Jr., have offered their services and been accepted by Mayor L. F. Tillery and designated as Company No. 1. The company will, of course, undergo slight changes in its equipment, orders and drill, but at the outset they have 20 well drilled members under the command of a former lieutenant of the militia, while from the thousand members of the order of Woodmen in the five lodges in this city it is expected that quite a large number will be recruited.

All Dealers and Others Using Weights and Measures ARE HEREBY WARNED

To Have Their Weights and Measures Tested By the Governm't Inspector

G. C. SIMMONS

Liquid measures have been used in the past in the place of dry measures for dry stuff, the purchaser thereby being the loser. This practice is subject to a Fine under the Penalty of the Law.

The Law will be Enforced as to Weights and Measures, in New Hanover County, beginning

Saturday, June 17th, 1916
